CORPORATE RECORD - RECORD 007

Helioscope Robotics, Inc. - diligence file reference LEGAL_HISTORY-007

1. Stockholder and Board Approvals

This file presents the register of stockholder written consents from 2019 through 2025, the class entitled to vote on each matter, and the worksheets by which each requisite threshold was computed against shares outstanding on the relevant record date. Written Consent Register and Requisite-Holder Calculations. This file was assembled for the legal diligence review and reports on the written-consent register and how each requisite threshold was measured. Read this as history rather than as a present statement of position, since each figure is reproduced from the instrument in which it originally appeared.

Counsel reviewed whether any consent required a notice to non-consenting holders after the fact, and identified the notices sent and the one that was not. The requisite for each action was computed on shares outstanding as of the stated record date, never on authorized shares, and the worksheet supporting each computation is filed with the consent. An officer's certificate accompanies each consent set and identifies the holders of record whose shares were counted, cross-referenced to the ledger as it then stood.

The interested-party analysis was performed on the transaction as a whole and again on each item within it, because a director interested in one item was disinterested in the others. A class vote and a general stockholder approval were obtained separately where both were required, and the register records them as two distinct approvals rather than one. An officer's certificate accompanies each consent set and identifies the holders of record whose shares were counted, cross-referenced to the ledger as it then stood.

2. Defined Terms and Construction

The term for a permitted transferee appears in both the charter and the transfer agreements, and the two definitions were conformed in one of the restatements. Defined terms are collected in one subsection and used consistently, and where an agreement outside the charter defines the same term differently the difference is noted. The interpretation clause states that headings do not affect construction, which matters here because the article headings changed between restatements.

A defined term for the plan reserve links the charter's authorized totals to the equity plan documents without repeating any figure. The term for requisite holders is defined by reference to shares outstanding, and the definition says expressly that authorized shares are not counted. The interpretation clause states that headings do not affect construction, which matters here because the article headings changed between restatements.

2. Defined Terms and Construction - part 3 of 4

This is part 3 of the 2. Defined Terms and Construction, carried over unbroken; a reader reconciling a reference should treat the parts as a single register. The break is editorial.

Nothing in this part varies how the 2. Defined Terms and Construction was compiled, and the headings given at the start remain the operative ones. Nothing is restated from the earlier part.

2. Defined Terms and Construction - part 4 of 4

This is part 4 of the 2. Defined Terms and Construction, carried over unbroken; a reader reconciling a reference should treat the parts as a single register. Pagination alone determines where it falls.

Because the basis of the 2. Defined Terms and Construction is unchanged, figures in this part may be compared directly with those already given.

Schedule 7.1 - Open-point tracker for the records review (continued, part 4 of 4)

3. Procedural Effectiveness and Open Authority

Effectiveness of the forum amendment was never in doubt, but its enforceability against a particular claim is a separate matter this file does not address. A filing may be effective as a matter of state process while the corporate action it records still lacks an approval the charter demanded, and this file keeps those two questions apart. An unsigned counterpart does not make an instrument ineffective if the requisite was met without it, but the file preserves the gap rather than presenting the set as complete.

The validation certificate identifies the defective act, the date of the act, the nature of the defect, and the date the ratification was approved, in that order. Acceptance by the state establishes only that the instrument met the filing requirements; it says nothing about whether the requisite holders approved the underlying action. An unsigned counterpart does not make an instrument ineffective if the requisite was met without it, but the file preserves the gap rather than presenting the set as complete.

4. Register of Issued and Cancelled Certificates

No certificate in the register is recorded as lost, so the file contains no affidavit of loss or indemnity bond. The certificate register carries a stub for every certificate issued, and each stub records the class, the number of shares, the holder of record, and the authority for the issuance. A stock power accompanies each transfer of a certificated share, and the register records whether the power was medallion-guaranteed or accepted on other evidence.

Uncertificated shares appear in the ledger without a stub, and the register cross-references the board resolution that permitted uncertificated issuance. Cancellations are recorded with the date of cancellation and the successor certificate number, so a chain from an original issuance to the current holder can be walked in one pass. A stock power accompanies each transfer of a certificated share, and the register records whether the power was medallion-guaranteed or accepted on other evidence.

4. Register of Issued and Cancelled Certificates - part 2 of 4

Below, the 4. Register of Issued and Cancelled Certificates continues; nothing separates this part from the last except the page on which it happens to fall. The sequence is unbroken either side of it.

The measurement basis recorded when the 4. Register of Issued and Cancelled Certificates opened is unchanged, so any figure here is comparable with any figure in the earlier parts. The parts are to be read together.

4. Register of Issued and Cancelled Certificates - part 4 of 4

Below, the 4. Register of Issued and Cancelled Certificates continues; nothing separates this part from the last except the page on which it happens to fall. Nothing is restated from the earlier part.

Everything stated about how the 4. Register of Issued and Cancelled Certificates was assembled continues to hold, and the break carries no substantive meaning. The parts are to be read together.

5. Joinder Records and Notice Maintenance

Assignment of rights to an affiliate was permitted in two instances, and each assignment is recorded with the joinder the assignee then delivered. Every joinder in the register names the agreements the party joined, the capacity in which it joined, and the date the joinder became effective, which is not always the date it was signed. The signature pages are held in a single counterpart set for each agreement, and the register cross-references the page number within that set.

No joinder in the register purports to modify the agreement it joins, and counsel confirmed that reading against each signature page. A joinder limited to the refusal and co-sale agreement gives no information rights, and the register makes that limitation explicit for the parties concerned. The signature pages are held in a single counterpart set for each agreement, and the register cross-references the page number within that set.

6. Series Terms as Designated

One subsection reserves to the board the power to fix the terms of any further series, subject to the protective provisions then in force. Dividend terms are stated as a preference payable when declared rather than as a cumulative accrual, and the designation says expressly that no dividend accrues in the absence of a declaration. A separate subsection addresses the treatment of fractional shares on conversion, stating a rounding convention rather than leaving it to the transfer agent.

The designation states that a class approval given in advance of an action remains effective only if the action occurs within a stated window. The liquidation subsection sets a preference amount per series and then addresses participation separately, so a reader must take the two provisions together to see the ranking. A separate subsection addresses the treatment of fractional shares on conversion, stating a rounding convention rather than leaving it to the transfer agent.

7. Charter Lineage and Sequence

Every designation in the chain rests on the blank-check authority the charter reserves to the board, and the enabling article is named for each one. The lineage begins with the original certificate filed at incorporation, and every later instrument in the file either restates that document in full or amends one identified article of it. Each restated charter carries its own internal article numbering, so any cross-reference drafted against an earlier scheme must be read through the conformance schedule.

A reader working backwards from the current authorized totals reaches one step that will not reconcile until the correction instrument is read together with the amendment it repairs. Counsel traced each authorized share total forward from the instrument that first set it, so a reader can see which filing produced the number carried in the current charter. Each restated charter carries its own internal article numbering, so any cross-reference drafted against an earlier scheme must be read through the conformance schedule.

8. Lodgement Record, Rejections, and Refilings

A single batch contained a restatement and a designation, and the log shows the two instruments with distinct effective times inside the same lodgement. The submission log records every batch lodged with the state, the documents inside it, the date of lodgement, the fee paid, and the state's response to the batch as a whole. Where a filing carried a requested delayed effective time, the cover letter making that request is retained in the batch materials.

No filing in the log was withdrawn after lodgement, so the file contains no withdrawal instrument. Two submissions were rejected, and in each case the log states the reason given, the correction made, and the date the corrected form was accepted. Where a filing carried a requested delayed effective time, the cover letter making that request is retained in the batch materials.

9. Records Held and Where They Sit

The corporation's records retention practice keeps charter and stockholder materials indefinitely, which the index states on its face. The minute book is organized by tab, and the index states for each tab the period covered, the form in which the material is held, and who holds it. The index identifies which materials exist only in electronic form, since the corporation did not print portal exports in the early years.

Where a document exists in both a signed and an unsigned form, the index names the signed version as the record copy. Custody is split between the corporate secretary, the transfer agent, and outside counsel, and the index says which materials sit with each of them. The index identifies which materials exist only in electronic form, since the corporation did not print portal exports in the early years.

10. Equity Plan History

The administrator's records identify the fair market value determination relied on for each grant date, and those determinations sit outside this file. The plan history records each adoption, restatement, and reserve increase with the board action and the stockholder action that supported it, and it does not assume the two occurred together. The plan documents were conformed to the charter after the board size changed, and the restatement that did so altered no economic term.

The history records the plan under which each grant was made, which matters because two plans were live in the same calendar year. The original plan was adopted before the first preferred designation, so its reserve was approved without any class vote being required at the time. The plan documents were conformed to the charter after the board size changed, and the restatement that did so altered no economic term.

11. Waiver Register and Notice Practice

Because several waivers share a stated term of thirty days, the register computes each lapse date separately from its own grant date. Each waiver in the register states the provision waived, the date granted, a term in days, and a lapse date computed from that term, so nothing depends on a reader's arithmetic. One lapse notice went to a superseded address, and the holder acknowledged the lapse informally some weeks later, which is recorded as an open item.

The register records whether a lapse was noticed, partially noticed, or not noticed, and it does not treat an unnoticed lapse as a failure of the lapse itself. A waiver that lapses does not revive the waived provision retrospectively, and the register records what happened during the waiver period as well as after it. One lapse notice went to a superseded address, and the holder acknowledged the lapse informally some weeks later, which is recorded as an open item.

12. Unresolved Points on the Record

The list does not include items arising from the current financing, which are tracked separately by the transaction team. The open items are listed as they stand rather than resolved on paper, because a diligence reader needs to know what the corporation has not yet closed. One item is described as immaterial on the record, and the basis for that description is given rather than asserted.

An item was reopened after it had been closed, because the document produced turned out to be a superseded copy. Three consent counterparts have never been returned, and while the requisite was met without them the file does not describe the sets as complete. One item is described as immaterial on the record, and the basis for that description is given rather than asserted.
