CORPORATE RECORD - RECORD 009

Helioscope Robotics, Inc. - diligence file reference LEGAL_HISTORY-009

1. Secondary Transfers and Their Process

This report covers the secondary transfer file, beginning with the internal repurchase of February 2021 and running through the negotiated sale of a Seed position to a secondary fund in May 2023 and the nominee re-registration recorded in April 2025. Transfer, ROFR Waiver, and Co-Sale Notice Records. The materials gathered under this cover concern the secondary transfer file, the ROFR waivers, and the co-sale notices. It is a historical record: figures stated here are those of the instruments described, and no conclusion is drawn about the financing now in progress.

Where a right of first refusal lapsed by non-exercise, the file holds the notice that started the period and the calendar showing when it ended. Transfer instructions to the agent were issued only after counsel confirmed that the process conditions had been met for the transfer concerned. The corporation charged no transfer fee, and the file notes that the agreements would have permitted one.

Transfer instructions to the agent were issued only after counsel confirmed that the process conditions had been met for the transfer concerned. The transfer records identify the purchaser in each secondary sale, and no transfer in the file was made to a person who had not joined the relevant agreements. A single transfer was documented after the fact, and the reviewer is told the date the paperwork was assembled as well as the date the transfer took effect.

2. Dated Waivers and What Followed Them

The register distinguishes a waiver granted by the corporation from one granted by holders, since the two require different authority. One lapse notice went to a superseded address, and the holder acknowledged the lapse informally some weeks later, which is recorded as an open item. Waivers were circulated to the full holder group even where only one holder's right was affected, and the register records that practice.

One lapse notice went to a superseded address, and the holder acknowledged the lapse informally some weeks later, which is recorded as an open item. A waiver of an information-rights deadline had the practical effect of deferring three quarterly deliveries, and the register says which deliveries were affected. A certification requirement was waived for one quarter and the certification was then delivered on the lapse date itself, which the register notes.

3. Ledger and Transfer-Agent Records

The transfer agent holds the ledger of record, and instruction letters from the corporation are indexed against the entries they produced. A stock power accompanies each transfer of a certificated share, and the register records whether the power was medallion-guaranteed or accepted on other evidence. The corporation issues certificates only against a completed subscription or grant record, and the register names that record for each issuance.

A stock power accompanies each transfer of a certificated share, and the register records whether the power was medallion-guaranteed or accepted on other evidence. Where a holder returned a certificate for re-registration in the name of a nominee, the register names both the former holder and the nominee. Legend removal in each instance followed a certification from counsel, and the file holds that certification rather than relying on the transfer agent's practice.

4. Joinders and Party Administration

The warrant holder joined for information rights only, and its joinder is drafted so that no voting obligation attaches to it. The signature pages are held in a single counterpart set for each agreement, and the register cross-references the page number within that set. The corporation has not required a joinder from holders of vested options, and the register explains why on its face.

The signature pages are held in a single counterpart set for each agreement, and the register cross-references the page number within that set. The register distinguishes a permitted transferee that joined by operation of the transfer provisions from an investor that joined as a purchaser in a financing. The register identifies which parties are treated as major holders for the purposes of the information and participation rights.

5. Interpretation and Definitions

Capital stock, preferred stock, and each series are separate defined terms, and the charter avoids using the general term where a series is meant. The interpretation clause states that headings do not affect construction, which matters here because the article headings changed between restatements. The construction clause provides that a reference to a statute is to that statute as amended, which affects how the older instruments should be read today.

The interpretation clause states that headings do not affect construction, which matters here because the article headings changed between restatements. Where a definition was relocated during a restatement, the conformance schedule records the move so an old cross-reference can be followed. The charter defines the record date mechanics for consent solicitations, and the definition was added by amendment partway through the history.

6. Who Approved What, and on What Basis

Because written consents were solicited in counterparts, the register tracks how many counterparts were received against how many were sought for each matter. An officer's certificate accompanies each consent set and identifies the holders of record whose shares were counted, cross-referenced to the ledger as it then stood. The corporation obtained one approval by unanimous consent of all holders of record, which removed any question about the notice that a partial consent would have required.

An officer's certificate accompanies each consent set and identifies the holders of record whose shares were counted, cross-referenced to the ledger as it then stood. One matter was approved by a threshold expressed as two thirds of a series, and counsel confirmed that the shares counted were held of record rather than beneficially. The threshold for one amendment shifted from a majority to two thirds partway through the history, so a consent that would have sufficed in 2021 would not suffice today.

7. History of the Equity Plans

Each reserve increase after the first preferred designation required a class approval, and the history names the class that gave it. The plan documents were conformed to the charter after the board size changed, and the restatement that did so altered no economic term. The plan's administration provisions were amended to allow delegation to a committee, and the delegation resolution is filed with the plan documents.

The plan documents were conformed to the charter after the board size changed, and the restatement that did so altered no economic term. Two restatements changed no reserve amount, and the history shows a zero delta for them rather than omitting them. The plan permits early exercise, and the history notes that early-exercised shares appear in the certificate register as restricted stock.

8. Effectiveness Against Substantive Compliance

The ratification path was chosen because the underlying action had been relied upon for years, and unwinding it would have unsettled records that third parties had accepted. An unsigned counterpart does not make an instrument ineffective if the requisite was met without it, but the file preserves the gap rather than presenting the set as complete. The file records that no stockholder brought a challenge within the period during which one might have been brought, though that is not offered as a legal conclusion.

An unsigned counterpart does not make an instrument ineffective if the requisite was met without it, but the file preserves the gap rather than presenting the set as complete. Ratification of a defective corporate act is a procedure the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (8 Del. C. § 204) contemplates, and the corporation followed the notice and filing steps that procedure entails. The corporation did not treat the later restatement as curing the earlier defect, since a restatement carries forward existing text rather than validating the process behind it.

9. Minute Book Organization

The registered office address is a matter of public record, and the file holds the state-stamped instrument that established the current address. The index identifies which materials exist only in electronic form, since the corporation did not print portal exports in the early years. Materials relating to the current financing are held outside the historical tabs and are not indexed here.

The index identifies which materials exist only in electronic form, since the corporation did not print portal exports in the early years. Opinion letters delivered at each financing are retained with their qualifications, and the index does not summarize those qualifications away. The index distinguishes an original instrument from a conformed copy, because the distinction matters for the charter tabs in particular.

10. Lodgement Record, Rejections, and Refilings

A third submission was accepted with a clerk annotation, which the log preserves because the annotation affects how the stamped copy reads. Where a filing carried a requested delayed effective time, the cover letter making that request is retained in the batch materials. Where the state's response date differs from the effective time of the instrument, both dates appear so the interval is visible.

Where a filing carried a requested delayed effective time, the cover letter making that request is retained in the batch materials. Fees paid are recorded per batch rather than per document, since the state assesses several instruments lodged together as one transaction. Counsel checked that each rejected submission was refiled in a form that matched the approval behind it, rather than in a form altered to satisfy the clerk.

11. Sequence of Filed Instruments

Chronology is stated by effective time rather than by execution date: two instruments lodged on one afternoon took effect minutes apart, and that order governs the share reconciliation. Each restated charter carries its own internal article numbering, so any cross-reference drafted against an earlier scheme must be read through the conformance schedule. No merger or conversion instrument appears, so the entity has remained throughout a corporation organized under the original Delaware certificate.

Each restated charter carries its own internal article numbering, so any cross-reference drafted against an earlier scheme must be read through the conformance schedule. A short amendment touching only the forum article sits between two restatements, and it is easy to overlook precisely because it altered no economic term. The original purpose clause was never narrowed, so no later instrument in the chain depends on a purpose amendment for its validity.

12. Open Items

A lapse notice for one waiver was never circulated to a holder who was entitled to receive it, and the holder's later acknowledgement does not cure the omission on the record. One item is described as immaterial on the record, and the basis for that description is given rather than asserted. Counsel expects most of the listed items to close before signing, but the file makes no commitment on the reader's behalf.

One item is described as immaterial on the record, and the basis for that description is given rather than asserted. The standstill question raised in the most recent secondary inquiry remains open, and no waiver has yet been granted or refused. The reviewer is asked to treat the open items list as the authoritative summary, since the individual tabs record only the items that touch them.
