CORPORATE RECORD - RECORD 013

Helioscope Robotics, Inc. - diligence file reference LEGAL_HISTORY-013

1. Counterparty Register

This file presents the joinder register for the investors' rights, voting, and refusal and co-sale agreements, together with the successor and permitted-assign entries and the two notice addresses that are now stale. Investor Joinder Register and Counterparty Administration. This file was assembled for the legal diligence review and reports on the joinder register, successor holders, and notice-address maintenance. Read this as history rather than as a present statement of position, since each figure is reproduced from the instrument in which it originally appeared.

Notice-address maintenance is the corporation's obligation under the agreements, and the register records the date each address was last confirmed. Every joinder in the register names the agreements the party joined, the capacity in which it joined, and the date the joinder became effective, which is not always the date it was signed. The register was reconciled against the stock ledger so that no holder of record is missing from the parties to the voting agreement.

Notice-address maintenance is the corporation's obligation under the agreements, and the register records the date each address was last confirmed. One entity changed its legal name after joining, and the register carries the former and current names against a single entry. A joinder limited to the refusal and co-sale agreement gives no information rights, and the register makes that limitation explicit for the parties concerned.

2. Refusal, Co-Sale, and Transfer Administration

The file records the consideration category for each transfer, distinguishing a repurchase at original cost from a negotiated price between third parties. Each secondary transfer in the file passed through the right of first refusal process, and the record shows whether the right was exercised, waived in writing, or allowed to lapse unexercised. None of the transfers in the file triggered a drag-along right, and the record states the threshold that would have been required.

The file records the consideration category for each transfer, distinguishing a repurchase at original cost from a negotiated price between third parties. One transfer record notes that the purchaser asked for and did not receive an information-rights joinder, so its rights are limited to those the agreements give any holder. Co-sale notices are dated and their response windows calculated, so a reader can see whether a participating holder responded inside its period.

3. Waiver Administration

The register shows one waiver still open at the date of this file, with its notice drafted but not yet circulated. Each waiver in the register states the provision waived, the date granted, a term in days, and a lapse date computed from that term, so nothing depends on a reader's arithmetic. One waiver deferred a recalculation that would otherwise have been required, and the deferral was tied to the completion of the ratification then in progress.

The register shows one waiver still open at the date of this file, with its notice drafted but not yet circulated. The effect column states what the waiver actually enabled, not merely which clause it addressed, so a reader can see the transaction behind it. A waiver that lapses does not revive the waived provision retrospectively, and the register records what happened during the waiver period as well as after it.

4. Defined Terms and Construction

The definitions distinguish an amendment from a restatement, and the amendment article applies different mechanics to each. Defined terms are collected in one subsection and used consistently, and where an agreement outside the charter defines the same term differently the difference is noted. The definitions subsection states that the singular includes the plural, which resolves a reading question in the protective provisions.

The definitions distinguish an amendment from a restatement, and the amendment article applies different mechanics to each. Where a term is used only once, the charter defines it inline rather than in the definitions subsection, and the conformance review lists those instances. The term for requisite holders is defined by reference to shares outstanding, and the definition says expressly that authorized shares are not counted.

4. Defined Terms and Construction - part 2 of 3

Because the 4. Defined Terms and Construction does not fit one page, its remainder is set out below under the same references. Nothing is restated from the earlier part.

Treat the conventions declared for the 4. Defined Terms and Construction as governing here too; this part introduces none of its own. Pagination alone determines where it falls.

4. Defined Terms and Construction - part 3 of 3

Set out next is the balance of the 4. Defined Terms and Construction, in the sequence in which the rows were originally compiled. The parts are to be read together.

Definitions given once for the 4. Defined Terms and Construction are relied on again rather than restated, the compilation basis being identical. Nothing is restated from the earlier part.

5. Minute Book Organization

The stock ledger is maintained by the transfer agent, and the corporation holds a printout as of each quarter end for its own records. The minute book is organized by tab, and the index states for each tab the period covered, the form in which the material is held, and who holds it. The index was tested by pulling ten items at random and confirming each was where the index said it would be.

The stock ledger is maintained by the transfer agent, and the corporation holds a printout as of each quarter end for its own records. The secretary's certificate delivered for this process certifies the minute book as complete subject to the exceptions the index lists. Custody is split between the corporate secretary, the transfer agent, and outside counsel, and the index says which materials sit with each of them.

6. Who Approved What, and on What Basis

A power of attorney supports one signature page, and the instrument granting that power is filed behind the consent rather than in the general corporate records. The requisite for each action was computed on shares outstanding as of the stated record date, never on authorized shares, and the worksheet supporting each computation is filed with the consent. Where the same consent approved both a charter amendment and a plan reserve increase, the file separates the two approvals so a defect in one does not travel to the other.

A power of attorney supports one signature page, and the instrument granting that power is filed behind the consent rather than in the general corporate records. A trustee signature was accepted only after the trust certificate had been produced, and the register notes the date the certificate arrived. A class vote and a general stockholder approval were obtained separately where both were required, and the register records them as two distinct approvals rather than one.

Schedule 13.3 - Schedule of irregularities and their disposition

Item	Description of the irregularity	Date arising	Remedial step taken	Filing consequence	Disposition

7. Rights Attaching to the Designated Series

Waiver of a series right is permitted only by the holders of that series acting at the stated threshold, and the clause says a board waiver is ineffective for the purpose. Dividend terms are stated as a preference payable when declared rather than as a cumulative accrual, and the designation says expressly that no dividend accrues in the absence of a declaration. Anti-destruction language addresses what a holder receives on a recapitalization, and it is drafted independently of the deemed liquidation clause.

Waiver of a series right is permitted only by the holders of that series acting at the stated threshold, and the clause says a board waiver is ineffective for the purpose. The series terms bind successors and permitted assigns, and the designation makes an assignment of rights ineffective until the assignee has joined the relevant agreement. The liquidation subsection sets a preference amount per series and then addresses participation separately, so a reader must take the two provisions together to see the ranking.

8. Equity Plan History

The grant register is maintained by the plan administrator and reconciled to the reserve balance at each quarter end. The plan history records each adoption, restatement, and reserve increase with the board action and the stockholder action that supported it, and it does not assume the two occurred together. No plan amendment in the history reduced a reserve, so the authorized-share reconciliation moves in one direction only on the plan lines.

The grant register is maintained by the plan administrator and reconciled to the reserve balance at each quarter end. A quarterly certification of the reserve balance was waived once and delivered on the lapse date, which the history cross-references to the waiver register. The original plan was adopted before the first preferred designation, so its reserve was approved without any class vote being required at the time.

9. Charter Lineage and Sequence

The operative charter today is the most recent restatement as further amended, and this file identifies by reference each amendment that survives against it. The lineage begins with the original certificate filed at incorporation, and every later instrument in the file either restates that document in full or amends one identified article of it. This file separates an amendment that raised an authorized total from a designation that allocated part of that total to a new series, because the two demand different approvals.

The operative charter today is the most recent restatement as further amended, and this file identifies by reference each amendment that survives against it. Where an instrument bears an effective time later than the hour of filing, the delay was requested in the cover letter and that request sits in the batch materials. Counsel traced each authorized share total forward from the instrument that first set it, so a reader can see which filing produced the number carried in the current charter.

10. Register of Issued and Cancelled Certificates

Repurchases at original cost on termination of employment are recorded as cancellations without a successor certificate, since the shares returned to authorized but unissued status. The certificate register carries a stub for every certificate issued, and each stub records the class, the number of shares, the holder of record, and the authority for the issuance. The cancellation entries were tested against the ledger movements to confirm that no cancelled certificate remained counted as outstanding.

Repurchases at original cost on termination of employment are recorded as cancellations without a successor certificate, since the shares returned to authorized but unissued status. One reissued certificate bears a legend that its predecessor did not, because the holder's circumstances changed between the two issuances. Cancellations are recorded with the date of cancellation and the successor certificate number, so a chain from an original issuance to the current holder can be walked in one pass.

11. Administration of State Filings

One batch was held pending a fee reconciliation and released the same week, which the log records without treating it as a rejection. The submission log records every batch lodged with the state, the documents inside it, the date of lodgement, the fee paid, and the state's response to the batch as a whole. The log records page counts per document, which is how the state assessed part of the fee for the longer restatements.

One batch was held pending a fee reconciliation and released the same week, which the log records without treating it as a rejection. One document was lodged by facsimile with the original following by courier, a practice the log notes has not been used since. Two submissions were rejected, and in each case the log states the reason given, the correction made, and the date the corrected form was accepted.

12. Open Items

No open item in the file concerns the validity of the currently operative charter, and that is stated expressly to avoid a reader inferring otherwise. The open items are listed as they stand rather than resolved on paper, because a diligence reader needs to know what the corporation has not yet closed. Two items depend on a third party returning a signature, and the corporation cannot close them unilaterally.

No open item in the file concerns the validity of the currently operative charter, and that is stated expressly to avoid a reader inferring otherwise. The file distinguishes an open item from a qualification, since a qualification limits a statement while an open item describes work remaining. Three consent counterparts have never been returned, and while the requisite was met without them the file does not describe the sets as complete.

Board committees were constituted by resolution, and the delegation to the compensation committee is the only delegation that touches the equity plans. The corporation has never held an annual meeting of stockholders in person, and every stockholder action in the period was taken by written consent in lieu of a meeting.

Officer appointments and their capacities are recorded in the minute book, which matters here because a signature block that misstates capacity has already caused one rejected filing. The corporation maintains directors and officers liability coverage, and the coverage record is held by the finance team rather than in the charter file.
