CORPORATE RECORD - RECORD 015

Helioscope Robotics, Inc. - diligence file reference LEGAL_HISTORY-015

1. History of the Equity Plans

This report covers the equity plan history, from adoption of the 2019 Stock Plan through the evergreen provision introduced with the 2021 plan, its suspension for one year, and the reserve increases approved along the way. Equity Plan History - Adoption, Increases, and the Evergreen Provision. The materials gathered under this cover concern plan adoption, the reserve increases, and the evergreen mechanics. It is a historical record: figures stated here are those of the instruments described, and no conclusion is drawn about the financing now in progress.

One reserve increase was approved by a consent that also addressed a protective provision, and the file separates the two approvals. Each reserve increase after the first preferred designation required a class approval, and the history names the class that gave it. The grant register is maintained by the plan administrator and reconciled to the reserve balance at each quarter end.

The administrator's records identify the fair market value determination relied on for each grant date, and those determinations sit outside this file. Two restatements changed no reserve amount, and the history shows a zero delta for them rather than omitting them. The grant register is maintained by the plan administrator and reconciled to the reserve balance at each quarter end.

2. Approvals and Requisite Calculations

One holder signed in two capacities, as a fund and as the manager of a co-investment vehicle, and the register counts those shares once. Because written consents were solicited in counterparts, the register tracks how many counterparts were received against how many were sought for each matter. A power of attorney supports one signature page, and the instrument granting that power is filed behind the consent rather than in the general corporate records.

Counsel reviewed whether any consent required a notice to non-consenting holders after the fact, and identified the notices sent and the one that was not. One matter was approved by a threshold expressed as two thirds of a series, and counsel confirmed that the shares counted were held of record rather than beneficially. A power of attorney supports one signature page, and the instrument granting that power is filed behind the consent rather than in the general corporate records.

3. Interpretation and Definitions

Cross-document definitions are incorporated only where the cited agreement was in force on the measurement date, and the file identifies that date. Capital stock, preferred stock, and each series are separate defined terms, and the charter avoids using the general term where a series is meant. The definitions distinguish an amendment from a restatement, and the amendment article applies different mechanics to each.

The term for a permitted transferee appears in both the charter and the transfer agreements, and the two definitions were conformed in one of the restatements. Where a definition was relocated during a restatement, the conformance schedule records the move so an old cross-reference can be followed. The definitions distinguish an amendment from a restatement, and the amendment article applies different mechanics to each.

4. Register of Issued and Cancelled Certificates

The register identifies which certificates are held in escrow and which escrow instrument governs each of them. The transfer agent holds the ledger of record, and instruction letters from the corporation are indexed against the entries they produced. Repurchases at original cost on termination of employment are recorded as cancellations without a successor certificate, since the shares returned to authorized but unissued status.

No certificate in the register is recorded as lost, so the file contains no affidavit of loss or indemnity bond. Where a holder returned a certificate for re-registration in the name of a nominee, the register names both the former holder and the nominee. Repurchases at original cost on termination of employment are recorded as cancellations without a successor certificate, since the shares returned to authorized but unissued status.

5. Records Held and Where They Sit

One tab holds the closing sets for each financing, and each set is indexed by the closing date rather than by the agreement name. The registered office address is a matter of public record, and the file holds the state-stamped instrument that established the current address. The stock ledger is maintained by the transfer agent, and the corporation holds a printout as of each quarter end for its own records.

The corporation's records retention practice keeps charter and stockholder materials indefinitely, which the index states on its face. Opinion letters delivered at each financing are retained with their qualifications, and the index does not summarize those qualifications away. The stock ledger is maintained by the transfer agent, and the corporation holds a printout as of each quarter end for its own records.

6. Joinders and Party Administration

Where a joinder was delivered late, the register states the delay and whether any right was exercised during the interval. The warrant holder joined for information rights only, and its joinder is drafted so that no voting obligation attaches to it. Notice-address maintenance is the corporation's obligation under the agreements, and the register records the date each address was last confirmed.

Assignment of rights to an affiliate was permitted in two instances, and each assignment is recorded with the joinder the assignee then delivered. The register distinguishes a permitted transferee that joined by operation of the transfer provisions from an investor that joined as a purchaser in a financing. Notice-address maintenance is the corporation's obligation under the agreements, and the register records the date each address was last confirmed.

7. Charter Lineage and Sequence

The registered office statement moved twice, and the second move was effected by a standalone filing rather than folded into the restatement then in preparation. Chronology is stated by effective time rather than by execution date: two instruments lodged on one afternoon took effect minutes apart, and that order governs the share reconciliation. The operative charter today is the most recent restatement as further amended, and this file identifies by reference each amendment that survives against it.

Every designation in the chain rests on the blank-check authority the charter reserves to the board, and the enabling article is named for each one. A short amendment touching only the forum article sits between two restatements, and it is easy to overlook precisely because it altered no economic term. The operative charter today is the most recent restatement as further amended, and this file identifies by reference each amendment that survives against it.

8. What Acceptance by the State Does Not Establish

One question remains open on the record: whether the notice of ratification reached every holder entitled to receive it, since one address on file was stale. The ratification path was chosen because the underlying action had been relied upon for years, and unwinding it would have unsettled records that third parties had accepted. Two open items concern approvals obtained after the fact, and in each case the file states the date the approval was actually given.

Effectiveness of the forum amendment was never in doubt, but its enforceability against a particular claim is a separate matter this file does not address. Ratification of a defective corporate act is a procedure the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (8 Del. C. § 204) contemplates, and the corporation followed the notice and filing steps that procedure entails. Two open items concern approvals obtained after the fact, and in each case the file states the date the approval was actually given.

9. Administration of State Filings

The corporation retains the portal delivery log for each electronic submission, and the log cross-references it by confirmation number. A third submission was accepted with a clerk annotation, which the log preserves because the annotation affects how the stamped copy reads. One batch was held pending a fee reconciliation and released the same week, which the log records without treating it as a rejection.

A single batch contained a restatement and a designation, and the log shows the two instruments with distinct effective times inside the same lodgement. Fees paid are recorded per batch rather than per document, since the state assesses several instruments lodged together as one transaction. One batch was held pending a fee reconciliation and released the same week, which the log records without treating it as a rejection.

10. Waivers, Terms, and Lapse

No waiver in the register was granted retrospectively, though one was documented after the conduct it permitted had begun. The register distinguishes a waiver granted by the corporation from one granted by holders, since the two require different authority. The register shows one waiver still open at the date of this file, with its notice drafted but not yet circulated.

Because several waivers share a stated term of thirty days, the register computes each lapse date separately from its own grant date. A waiver of an information-rights deadline had the practical effect of deferring three quarterly deliveries, and the register says which deliveries were affected. The register shows one waiver still open at the date of this file, with its notice drafted but not yet circulated.

11. State Obligations and Standing

Payment receipts are held as state-issued confirmations rather than as bank records, and the log says which form is on file for each year. The annual report identifies the directors and the principal place of business, and the log flags the year in which that information lagged an actual change. The log shows the assessed amount rising as authorized shares increased, which ties the tax record to the charter amendments in the lineage.

The registered agent's own annual fee is recorded separately from the franchise tax, since the two are unrelated obligations. Because a franchise tax showing is required for certain filings, one amendment was rejected until the prior year's payment could be evidenced. The log shows the assessed amount rising as authorized shares increased, which ties the tax record to the charter amendments in the lineage.

12. Unresolved Points on the Record

One item concerns a nominee whose principal has not been identified, which bears on the information rights the nominee may claim. A lapse notice for one waiver was never circulated to a holder who was entitled to receive it, and the holder's later acknowledgement does not cure the omission on the record. No open item in the file concerns the validity of the currently operative charter, and that is stated expressly to avoid a reader inferring otherwise.

The list does not include items arising from the current financing, which are tracked separately by the transaction team. The standstill question raised in the most recent secondary inquiry remains open, and no waiver has yet been granted or refused. No open item in the file concerns the validity of the currently operative charter, and that is stated expressly to avoid a reader inferring otherwise.
