CORPORATE RECORD - RECORD 017

Helioscope Robotics, Inc. - diligence file reference LEGAL_HISTORY-017

1. Interpretation and Definitions

This file addresses the two governance amendments that carry no economic term: the forum-selection clause added in March 2023 and the indemnification and advancement changes adopted in February 2025, together with the approvals obtained for each. Indemnification and Forum Provisions - Amendment History. What follows is an extract from the corporate records limited to the forum-selection and indemnification amendments and their approvals. Figures below are drawn from the instruments themselves, and no part of this file was written to describe the round presently being documented.

A defined term for business day governs every notice period in the instruments, and it excludes days on which the state office is closed. A deemed liquidation event is defined by enumerating transaction forms rather than by a general description, which narrows the clause deliberately. The charter defines the record date mechanics for consent solicitations, and the definition was added by amendment partway through the history.

The original issue price of each series is fixed as a defined term in the designation, and no later instrument adjusts it except by express amendment. A defined term for business day governs every notice period in the instruments, and it excludes days on which the state office is closed. Cross-document definitions are incorporated only where the cited agreement was in force on the measurement date, and the file identifies that date.

2. How the Governing Text Reached Its Current Form

Since the corporation has kept one Delaware file number since incorporation, the state index does not by itself distinguish one instrument in the sequence from the next. Where a restatement consolidated earlier amendments, the superseded instruments stay in the file, because an abandoned proposal and an operative provision look alike once the numbering changes. The original purpose clause was never narrowed, so no later instrument in the chain depends on a purpose amendment for its validity.

Two restatements were adopted in the same week as a new series designation, and they remain separate instruments here because the state accepted them as separate filings. Since the corporation has kept one Delaware file number since incorporation, the state index does not by itself distinguish one instrument in the sequence from the next. The registered office statement moved twice, and the second move was effected by a standalone filing rather than folded into the restatement then in preparation.

3. Stockholder and Board Approvals

Consent in lieu of a meeting was used throughout, which the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (8 Del. C. § 228) permits subject to the mechanics the charter and bylaws then imposed. Two directors recused themselves from the item in which they held an interest, and the minute records the recusal before the vote rather than as a later annotation. The threshold for one amendment shifted from a majority to two thirds partway through the history, so a consent that would have sufficed in 2021 would not suffice today.

An abstention was treated as neither a consent nor an objection, and the numerator excludes it while the denominator continues to count the abstaining holder's shares. Consent in lieu of a meeting was used throughout, which the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (8 Del. C. § 228) permits subject to the mechanics the charter and bylaws then imposed. One holder signed in two capacities, as a fund and as the manager of a co-investment vehicle, and the register counts those shares once.

4. Effectiveness Against Substantive Compliance

Counsel formed no view on whether any third party relied on the defective act, because the record does not contain the evidence such a view would require. Counsel distinguished a curable procedural gap from a substantive failure of authority, since the remedies available differ sharply between them. The corporation did not treat the later restatement as curing the earlier defect, since a restatement carries forward existing text rather than validating the process behind it.

One instrument became effective before the class vote it required was complete, and the corporation later addressed that gap through a ratification rather than a refiling. Counsel formed no view on whether any third party relied on the defective act, because the record does not contain the evidence such a view would require. One question remains open on the record: whether the notice of ratification reached every holder entitled to receive it, since one address on file was stale.

5. Minute Book Organization

Corporate records requests from holders are logged separately, and no such request was outstanding at the date of this file. One tab has a gap covering a single year of registered agent correspondence, which the index records rather than leaving the reader to discover it. The index distinguishes an original instrument from a conformed copy, because the distinction matters for the charter tabs in particular.

The registered agent has changed once, and the acceptance of the incoming agent is filed with the instrument that recorded the change. Corporate records requests from holders are logged separately, and no such request was outstanding at the date of this file. One tab holds the closing sets for each financing, and each set is indexed by the closing date rather than by the agreement name.

6. Parties, Successors, and Permitted Assigns

One party joined an agreement it was not required to join, and the register notes that its rights derive from the agreement rather than from the joinder. Where a party succeeded to another holder's position, the register identifies the predecessor and states whether the predecessor's joinder was superseded or remains on foot. The register identifies which parties are treated as major holders for the purposes of the information and participation rights.

Two notice addresses on the register are stale, and mail to one of them has been returned, which is recorded as an open administrative item. One party joined an agreement it was not required to join, and the register notes that its rights derive from the agreement rather than from the joinder. Where a joinder was delivered late, the register states the delay and whether any right was exercised during the interval.

7. Ledger and Transfer-Agent Records

For one holder the register shows two open certificates of the same class, which the corporation has left outstanding rather than consolidating them. Two certificates were cancelled and reissued in part, and the register shows both the cancelled amount and the reissued amount rather than only the net position. Legend removal in each instance followed a certification from counsel, and the file holds that certification rather than relying on the transfer agent's practice.

Restricted shares carry a legend, and the register distinguishes a legend that remains from one removed on a stated date with a stated certification behind it. For one holder the register shows two open certificates of the same class, which the corporation has left outstanding rather than consolidating them. The register identifies which certificates are held in escrow and which escrow instrument governs each of them.

8. Equity Plan History

Where a grant was cancelled on termination, the history records whether the underlying shares returned to the reserve or were retired. A later plan introduced an evergreen provision, and the history records each year the evergreen tranche was certified by the board. The plan permits early exercise, and the history notes that early-exercised shares appear in the certificate register as restricted stock.

The evergreen was suspended for one year, and the suspension was approved by the same consent that carried a charter amendment. Where a grant was cancelled on termination, the history records whether the underlying shares returned to the reserve or were retired. One reserve increase was approved by a consent that also addressed a protective provision, and the file separates the two approvals.

9. Waiver Register and Notice Practice

Counsel reviewed whether any waiver purported to waive a right that the granting party did not hold, and found none. Two waivers lapsed without the notice the underlying agreement contemplates, and the register marks the notice column rather than presenting the lapse as clean. A certification requirement was waived for one quarter and the certification was then delivered on the lapse date itself, which the register notes.

One waiver was granted for a single transaction and expressly did not extend to any other transfer, which the register reproduces in the effect column. Counsel reviewed whether any waiver purported to waive a right that the granting party did not hold, and found none. No waiver in the register was granted retrospectively, though one was documented after the conduct it permitted had begun.

10. Lodgement Record, Rejections, and Refilings

The log was reconciled against the state's index for the corporation's file number, and every accepted instrument appears in both. The first rejection turned on a signature block that did not state the signing officer's capacity, a defect corrected within a day. Counsel checked that each rejected submission was refiled in a form that matched the approval behind it, rather than in a form altered to satisfy the clerk.

The second rejection concerned a restated form lodged without the officer certification the state requires with a restatement of that kind. The log was reconciled against the state's index for the corporation's file number, and every accepted instrument appears in both. The corporation retains the portal delivery log for each electronic submission, and the log cross-references it by confirmation number.

11. Evidence of Good Standing

One report was filed on the last permitted day, and the log notes the timing without treating it as a deficiency. One year's payment was late and carried interest, and the log records the interest separately from the tax rather than folding it into a single figure. The corporation is current on all state obligations at the date of this file, subject to the current year's report not yet being due.

Good standing certificates were obtained at three points, and each certificate is filed with the request that produced it. One report was filed on the last permitted day, and the log notes the timing without treating it as a deficiency. Payment receipts are held as state-issued confirmations rather than as bank records, and the log says which form is on file for each year.

12. Open Items

Where an item was closed during the review, the file records both the state before and the step that closed it. One restricted stock election receipt is missing from the file, and the grantee has been asked to produce the mailing evidence. The reviewer is asked to treat the open items list as the authoritative summary, since the individual tabs record only the items that touch them.

Two notice addresses are stale, and until they are corrected any notice sent under the agreements to those parties is of doubtful effect. Where an item was closed during the review, the file records both the state before and the step that closed it. One item concerns a nominee whose principal has not been identified, which bears on the information rights the nominee may claim.
