Introduction and Purpose of this Annual Report

This Annual Report for fiscal year two thousand twenty-three is furnished by the Obligor solely to satisfy the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking described in the Official Statement, and it is not itself an offering document. This report addresses only the annual financial information filing covenant under that Undertaking, and the information contained in it is provided for the benefit of owners of the Bonds. It is not an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy any security, and it should not be relied upon as investment advice or as a recommendation to purchase, hold, or sell the Bonds.

This Annual Report is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Official Statement. Capitalized terms used but not defined in this Annual Report have the meanings given to them in the Official Statement. The descriptions contained in the Official Statement of the Authority, the Company, the Bonds, the Loan Agreement, and the Indenture are controlling for purposes of interpreting the Undertaking, and this Annual Report should be read together with the Official Statement.

The Obligor under the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking is the Company, the borrower under the Loan Agreement described in the Official Statement between the Company and the Authority. The Authority issued the Bonds under the Indenture described in the Official Statement and loaned the proceeds of the Bonds to the Company under the Loan Agreement. The Bonds remain outstanding as described later in this Annual Report, and, as described in the Official Statement, the Company's payment obligations under the Loan Agreement are the source of funds for the Authority's payment obligations on the Bonds.

This Annual Report is organized into the divisions whose captions appear throughout this report. Each division is separately captioned and addresses a distinct aspect of the annual financial information filing covenant under the Undertaking, beginning with this introduction and followed by the annual financial information and operating data required by the Undertaking. The captions are intended to assist readers in locating the particular disclosures, and the organization of this Annual Report follows the structure described in the Official Statement.

Annual Financial and Operating Information

This section incorporates by reference the Obligor's audited financial statements for the fiscal year covered by this Annual Report, when and if available. Complete copies of those audited financial statements will be available upon request from the Obligor, and their availability will be noted in the manner contemplated by the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking. The incorporation by reference is intended to satisfy the annual financial information filing covenant described in the Official Statement and supplements the financial information previously made available to holders of the Bonds.

For a single-tenant industrial facility of the type financed under the Loan Agreement, operating data customarily discussed in an annual report of this kind includes the level and continuity of facility utilization, expressed in narrative terms through matters such as operating days or shifts and the relationship between actual production or throughput levels and the facility's designed capacity. Depending on the nature of the Project, throughput may be described in units appropriate to the Company's industry, including but not limited to units of output, tons processed, machine hours, or similar measures, together with any significant factors that caused utilization to vary from prior periods. This section also addresses any material change in the nature of the Company's operations at the Project, including changes in products, processes, or principal business activities, that would be relevant to an understanding of the facility's ongoing performance as described in the Official Statement.

Condensed operating data and the Obligor's covenant compliance for the fiscal year are discussed in the following two divisions of this report. Those divisions provide a narrative summary of facility operating performance and the Obligor's adherence to material covenants contained in the Loan Agreement and the Indenture. The operating data presented in those divisions should be read as a supplement to, and not a substitute for, the audited financial statements described in the first paragraph of this section.

This Annual Report does not restate the Obligor's complete financial statements and is not intended to be read in isolation from the Official Statement or from the Obligor's audited financial statements when they become available. Rather, it is intended to update and contextualize the financial and operating information previously provided, and it should be considered together with the Loan Agreement, the Indenture, and the Obligor's other continuing disclosure filings on the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system. Nothing in this report is intended to constitute a recasting of the Obligor's financial statements or an expression of opinion concerning the Obligor's creditworthiness.

Operating Results for the Fiscal Year

During fiscal year two thousand twenty-three, the Project experienced a modest and steady improvement in facility utilization and throughput, consistent with the pattern of gradual recovery observed in the prior fiscal year. The Company's operating statistics for the fiscal year, which are presented in the tables accompanying this Annual Report and defined more fully in the Official Statement, reflected no unusual or non-recurring items affecting utilization, throughput, or overall operating continuity. The improvement was achieved in the ordinary course of operations and did not require any modification to the Project's configuration or to the operational assumptions described in the Official Statement. The Company believes these results are consistent with the operational expectations described in the Official Statement, although, as discussed below, such expectations are subject to inherent uncertainties.

During the fiscal year, the general industrial and manufacturing environment in which the Company operates continued to reflect elevated input costs, particularly for energy, raw materials, and freight, although the rate of cost escalation moderated as the year progressed. Supply chain constraints that had limited the availability of certain production inputs in the prior fiscal year eased somewhat, resulting in steadier order fulfillment and a gradual reduction in customer lead times. Demand conditions across the Company's customer base remained generally stable but competitive, with customers exercising continued discipline with respect to pricing, contract renewals, and inventory levels. These conditions affected the Company and other similarly situated industrial and manufacturing businesses in a comparable manner and did not disproportionately impact the Project relative to the broader market.

In response to these conditions, the Company's management implemented a series of operational measures designed to preserve throughput and maintain cost discipline, including adjustments to production scheduling, targeted preventive maintenance programs, and continued management of input inventories to align with customer order patterns. Management also enhanced its focus on customer engagement and contract renewal activity, recognizing the competitive pricing environment described above and the importance of sustaining the revenue streams that support the Company's payment obligations under the Loan Agreement. These measures were implemented within the scope of the Company's ordinary operational authority under the Loan Agreement and the Indenture and did not require supplemental funding, an amendment to the transaction documents, or any action by the Authority. Management believes these actions supported the modest improvement in utilization and throughput described above without compromising the Project's long-term physical condition.

Past operating results, including the results for the fiscal year discussed in this Annual Report, are not necessarily indicative of future results, and no assurance can be given as to the Company's future operating performance or the Project's future financial condition. The Company's operations are subject to numerous risks and uncertainties, including changes in general economic conditions, input costs, customer demand, regulatory requirements, and competitive dynamics, many of which are beyond the Company's control and are described more fully in the Official Statement. The operating information presented in this Annual Report is therefore provided for informational purposes only and should not be construed as a promise or guarantee of future performance. The Company undertakes no obligation to update this operating discussion other than in accordance with the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking described in the Official Statement.

Covenant Compliance for the Fiscal Year

Under the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking described in the Official Statement, the Company, as Obligor under the Loan Agreement with the Authority, reports that the minimum debt service coverage covenant contained in the Loan Agreement was satisfied throughout the fiscal year two thousand twenty-three. The coverage measured on each applicable calculation date remained above the level required by the Loan Agreement, and the Obligor maintained adequate headroom under the covenant at all times during the fiscal year. No event occurred during the fiscal year that caused the coverage to fall below the required level, and no circumstance has been identified that would have affected the Obligor’s compliance with that covenant.

The determination of compliance with the minimum debt service coverage covenant for the fiscal year two thousand twenty-three was made in accordance with the definitions, accounting treatments, and calculation methodology set forth in the Loan Agreement. Those provisions specify the revenues and expenses that enter the calculation, the treatment of depreciation and other non-cash items, and the manner in which amounts available for debt service are measured. The calculation itself is not restated in this Annual Report, but the Obligor confirms that the covenant was evaluated on that basis and that the evaluation was consistent with the terms of the Loan Agreement.

The Obligor is also subject to other customary covenants under the Loan Agreement, including an additional-indebtedness restriction, an insurance covenant, and a maintenance-of-the-Project covenant. The additional-indebtedness restriction limits the conditions under which the Obligor may incur new obligations, the insurance covenant requires the Obligor to maintain appropriate property and liability coverage on the Project, and the maintenance-of-the-Project covenant obligates the Obligor to preserve the Project in good operating condition. As of the date of this report, the Obligor was in compliance with each of these covenants, and the Obligor has not identified any act or omission that would constitute a violation of those provisions.

A failure by the Obligor to comply with a covenant in the Loan Agreement, if not cured within any applicable cure period, could constitute an event of default under the Loan Agreement and the Indenture. The Indenture provides that certain events of default under the Loan Agreement constitute events of default under the Indenture, which would permit the trustee or the holders to exercise the remedies set forth in the Indenture. The Obligor therefore monitors its compliance with all Loan Agreement covenants throughout the fiscal year in order to avoid giving rise to any such default or cure period.

Significant Events; Compliance History

During the fiscal year two thousand twenty-three, no reportable significant event occurred under the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking described in the Official Statement. There was no rating action with respect to the sole Moody's rating assigned to the Bonds, no bond call was made with respect to the Bonds, and no adverse tax determination was rendered concerning the Bonds. This result is consistent with the continuing operations of the Authority and the Obligor as required under the Loan Agreement and the Indenture.

Consistent with the disclosure conventions introduced by the Securities and Exchange Commission's two thousand eighteen amendments to its continuing-disclosure rule, the Obligor has reviewed its compliance, in all material respects, with its continuing disclosure undertakings over the preceding five years. The review covered the annual financial information, operating data, and audited financial statements required to be filed under the Undertaking described in the Official Statement, together with the Obligor's related obligations under the Loan Agreement and the Indenture. That review disclosed no instance of material non-compliance with those undertakings other than as otherwise disclosed in this Annual Report.

This report constitutes the first Annual Report filed under the Undertaking for a full fiscal year of ordinary operations following the issuance of the Bonds. The fiscal year two thousand twenty-three is the first complete annual period after the closing date, and the information presented in this report accordingly reflects a full cycle of the Authority's and the Obligor's activities under the Loan Agreement and the Indenture. Because there has been no prior full fiscal year under the Undertaking, the compliance history described above is based on the period since issuance and the requirements of the Official Statement.

As of the date of this report, the Obligor is not aware of any pending or threatened material litigation against the Authority or the Obligor relating to the Bonds. This statement is based on the Obligor's review of transaction records and correspondence concerning the Bonds, including communications with the Authority and with counsel involved in the issuance of the Bonds. Nothing in the Loan Agreement, the Indenture, or the Official Statement has come to the Obligor's attention that would indicate a material litigation risk to the Bonds. If such litigation were to arise following the date of this report, the Obligor would evaluate any disclosure obligation under the Undertaking separately.

Current Rating

The Bonds carry a current rating from a single rating agency, stated elsewhere in this report in a table the Obligor does not reproduce here. That table identifies the agency and the assigned rating, and readers should refer to the table for the current figure. The rating was assigned in connection with the Bonds as described in the Official Statement.

The rating reflects only the assigning agency's own opinion as of its date and is not a recommendation to buy, sell, or hold the Bonds. The rating is not a guarantee of creditworthiness and should be weighed with all other information in this Annual Report, the Official Statement, and the continuing disclosure records filed on EMMA. Neither the Loan Agreement nor the Indenture makes the rating a covenant or a representation by the Obligor, and the Obligor does not adopt the rating as its own assessment.

There is no assurance that the rating will continue for any given period, and the rating agency may revise, suspend, or withdraw it at any time in its sole discretion. Any such action could adversely affect the market price or liquidity of the Bonds, and the Obligor can make no prediction about whether such action will occur. The Continuing Disclosure Undertaking and the Loan Agreement do not obligate the rating agency to maintain, confirm, or announce any rating, and nothing in those documents gives the Obligor a right to compel a rating action.

As background only, a municipal issuer's own rating scale is not directly comparable to a corporate issuer's rating scale, and no specific notch on either scale is restated here. The two scales address different legal, economic, and default characteristics, including the respective roles of the Authority and the Company under the Loan Agreement and the Indenture, and readers should not treat them as interchangeable. This observation is provided for context only and is not a rating action or a recommendation to buy, sell, or hold the Bonds. The Official Statement contains further discussion of the municipal bond market context.

Continuing Disclosure Undertaking — Annual Report Filing Deadline

Under the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking described in the Official Statement, the Obligor covenants to file this Annual Report with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system no later than one hundred eighty days after the end of each fiscal year of the Obligor.

The Obligor has covenanted, in the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking described in the Official Statement, to file an Annual Report with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system containing updated financial information and operating data of the type included in the Official Statement, together with audited financial statements for the applicable fiscal year. This Annual Report is filed to satisfy that covenant for the fiscal year two thousand twenty-three. The Undertaking sets out the categories of updated financial information and operating data that this Annual Report is intended to cover, and the filing deadline is stated elsewhere in this report.

This Annual Report, together with the Obligor's other EMMA filings, is available on the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system, commonly referred to as EMMA. The Obligor has made these filings available through EMMA in accordance with the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking. Bondholders and other market participants may inspect the filings on EMMA without charge.

Under the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking, a failure by the Obligor to comply with its Annual Report filing covenant does not itself constitute an event of default under the Loan Agreement or the Indenture. Any Bondholder is entitled, under the Undertaking, to seek specific performance of the filing covenant, and no monetary damages remedy is available for such a failure. This remedial limitation is consistent with the terms of the Undertaking and does not alter any rights or remedies a Bondholder may otherwise have under the Loan Agreement, the Indenture, or applicable law.

The Continuing Disclosure Undertaking was entered into by the Obligor solely to assist the underwriter of the Bonds in complying with Rule 15c2-12 under the Securities Exchange Act of nineteen thirty-four. The Undertaking was not made for the benefit of any other person, and no other person is intended to be a third-party beneficiary of the filing covenant. A description of the Undertaking is included in the Official Statement.

Additional Indebtedness During the Fiscal Year

During the fiscal year two thousand twenty-three, the Company incurred no indebtedness that ranks equally with or senior to the guarantee supporting the Bonds. This determination is based on a review of the Company's consolidated financial statements and the records of corporate actions maintained by the Obligor. The relative priority of the guarantee is established under the Indenture, and no transaction or instrument executed during the fiscal year altered that priority in favor of any other obligation of the Company.

The Loan Agreement and the Indenture do not contain any covenant that prohibits all additional indebtedness of the Company or its corporate parent from being incurred. These documents instead establish certain conditions and limitations, which are not applicable to the circumstances described in this Annual Report because no such indebtedness was created during the fiscal year two thousand twenty-three. Accordingly, the absence of new indebtedness during the period covered by this report does not reflect the satisfaction of a covenant requirement, but rather represents the factual position of the Company as of the date of this report.

Should the Company or its corporate parent incur additional indebtedness in the future, that indebtedness could rank equally with the guarantee supporting the Bonds, or, in the case of secured indebtedness, ahead of the guarantee. This possibility is described in the Official Statement's Bondholders' Risks discussion under the topic of additional indebtedness, and the Obligor refers readers to that discussion for a fuller explanation. The relative ranking of any future obligation would depend on the specific terms of the instrument and the security interests granted, if any, as well as on the provisions of the Loan Agreement and the Indenture.

The Obligor will disclose any material change in the position described above with respect to additional indebtedness in a future Annual Report filed pursuant to the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking. In the event that such a change constitutes a material event as defined under the rule applicable to this undertaking, the Obligor will also file a notice of a material event with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system. This paragraph reflects the ongoing disclosure obligations of the Obligor and does not alter or modify the terms of the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking itself.

Use of Proceeds Confirmation

The Obligor confirms that the proceeds of the Bonds were fully applied to the purposes described in the Plan of Finance in the Official Statement. All proceeds were disbursed and expended in accordance with the Loan Agreement and the Indenture, and no unspent proceeds remain held by the Trustee as of the date of this Annual Report. The Authority and the Company have completed the application of Bond proceeds contemplated by the Plan of Finance, and the accounts maintained under the Indenture for Bond proceeds are no longer carrying any balance.

Consistent with that Plan of Finance, the proceeds were applied to capital improvements at the Project. These improvements included the construction, equipping, and related site work necessary to place the Project in service, together with associated professional, architectural, and engineering services. A portion of the proceeds was also applied to costs of issuance of the Bonds, including printing, legal, accounting, trustee, and financing expenses. No other categories of expenditures were made from Bond proceeds.

Because no proceeds remain unspent, the Obligor has no further arbitrage-rebate compliance obligation with respect to unspent proceeds. There is no unexpended balance in any construction fund, project fund, or other proceeds account held by the Trustee from which an arbitrage-rebate computation on unspent proceeds would arise. Accordingly, with respect to unspent Bond proceeds, the Obligor is no longer subject to the rebate calculation and payment requirements set forth in the tax documents described in the Official Statement.

The restrictions on use of proceeds described in the Tax Matters section of the Official Statement continue to apply to the completed Project throughout the term of the Bonds. These restrictions govern, among other matters, the ownership and use of the Project, the investment and expenditure of Bond proceeds, and the ongoing compliance requirements of the Internal Revenue Code. The Authority and the Company will continue to operate the Project in a manner consistent with those restrictions and will monitor compliance with the representations contained in the Official Statement's Tax Matters discussion.

Book-Entry-Only System Status

The Bonds continue to be held in book-entry-only form through The Depository Trust Company, with Cede & Co. acting as DTC's nominee. No beneficial owner has requested discontinuance of the book-entry-only system during the fiscal year covered by this Annual Report. Accordingly, all ownership interests in the Bonds remain reflected on DTC's books and on the books of DTC participants.

If the book-entry-only system were ever discontinued, replacement certificates would be issued to beneficial owners in accordance with the procedures described in the Official Statement. Those certificates would evidence direct ownership of the Bonds by the persons entitled to receive them as of the applicable record date. Until the issuance of any replacement certificates, DTC's existing book-entry procedures would continue to govern the processing of payments and transfers with respect to the Bonds.

A beneficial owner wishing further information about its own beneficial ownership records should contact the DTC participant through which it holds its interest, rather than the Authority, the Obligor, or the Trustee directly. The DTC participant maintains the account through which the beneficial owner's position is recorded and credited. That participant, not the Authority or the Trustee, is the appropriate point of inquiry for such record information. Neither the Authority nor the Trustee has any responsibility for the accuracy of DTC's records or the records of any DTC participant, including records maintained with respect to beneficial ownership interests. The Obligor's disclosure obligations under the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking do not extend to the verification of those records. Beneficial owners should rely on the records maintained by DTC and its participants for information regarding their ownership interests.

Insurance and Casualty

The Company maintains insurance on the Project of the kinds and in the amounts required by the Loan Agreement, and no material casualty loss affecting the Project occurred during the fiscal year covered by this Annual Report. The specific coverage obligations are set forth in the Loan Agreement, and the Company's compliance with those obligations is subject to annual verification through the evidence of coverage described below. No material casualty claim was made by the Company during the fiscal year, and no insurance proceeds were received by the Company in respect of the Project.

Property insurance and commercial general liability insurance are the kinds of coverage customarily required of a facility of this type. Property insurance indemnifies the insured against physical loss of or damage to the Project, including its structures, equipment, fixtures, and other tangible components, and is typically maintained on a replacement-cost basis. Commercial general liability insurance protects the Company and the Authority against third-party claims for bodily injury, property damage, and related defense costs arising out of the condition of the Project or the activities conducted at the Project. The Loan Agreement requires that these coverages be maintained throughout the term of the Loan Agreement.

Proceeds of any casualty insurance, were a loss ever to occur, would be applied in accordance with the Indenture, either to the restoration of the Project to its pre-loss condition or to the redemption of the Bonds. This dual application is consistent with the security structure described in the Official Statement, under which insurance proceeds form part of the trust estate for the benefit of the Bondholders. The Company's obligations under the Loan Agreement are coordinated with the Indenture's provisions so that any insurance recovery is applied exclusively to the restoration or redemption purposes described above.

The Obligor furnished the Trustee with evidence of its continued insurance coverage during the fiscal year as required by the Loan Agreement. The evidence consisted of certificates of insurance and related documentation demonstrating that the property insurance and commercial general liability insurance on the Project remained in full force and effect. This annual delivery confirms the Company's ongoing compliance with the insurance covenant in the Loan Agreement.

Miscellaneous

This Annual Report is furnished solely pursuant to the annual financial-information filing covenant of the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking described in the Official Statement, and not pursuant to any other covenant contained in that undertaking. The Obligor is providing this report in satisfaction of the reporting obligation set forth in the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking, which was executed in connection with the Loan Agreement and the Indenture. The Loan Agreement, the Indenture, and the Official Statement contain the operative terms of the Bonds and should be consulted for a complete statement of the respective obligations of the Authority and the Company. Certain statements contained in this Annual Report are statements of opinion and are not representations of fact. Any such statements speak only as of their respective dates, and the Obligor undertakes no obligation to update them. No reader of this Annual Report should rely upon any such statement as a representation of current facts or circumstances as of any later date.

The Obligor has authorized the filing of this Annual Report. The information set forth in this Annual Report has been prepared from the books and records of the Company and from other sources that the Company believes to be reliable. The execution and delivery of this Annual Report, and the submission of this Annual Report to the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system, have been duly authorized by the Obligor.

Further information concerning the Bonds, the Authority, or the Obligor may be obtained by referring to the Official Statement and to the Obligor's other filings on the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system. Those filings include the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking and the Obligor's prior annual reports and other disclosure documents. The Official Statement and those filings describe the terms of the Bonds, the security for the Bonds, the provisions of the Loan Agreement and the Indenture, and the respective roles of the Authority and the Company.
