Introduction and Purpose of this Annual Report

This Annual Report is furnished solely to satisfy the continuing disclosure undertaking described in the Official Statement, and it is not itself an offering document. Accordingly, this report does not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy any security, nor may it be relied upon as providing information sufficient for an investment decision. The information contained herein is intended to be read in conjunction with the materials referenced in the Official Statement, and any person reviewing this report should refer to those materials for a complete understanding of the matters discussed.

This Annual Report is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Official Statement, including all exhibits and appendices thereto. Capitalized terms used but not defined in this Annual Report have the meanings given to them in the Official Statement. In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this report and the Official Statement, the Official Statement controls with respect to the meaning of such defined terms.

The Obligor is the Company under the loan agreement with the Authority described in the Official Statement, and the Bonds remain outstanding as described later in this report. This relationship is governed by the loan agreement and the indenture, each as referenced in the Official Statement, and the obligations of the Company thereunder are subject to the terms of those documents. The continuing disclosure undertaking arises from the provisions of the Official Statement, and this filing is made pursuant to that undertaking.

This Annual Report is organized into the divisions whose captions appear throughout this report. Each division addresses a distinct aspect of the information required under the continuing disclosure undertaking, and the captions indicate the subject matter of the corresponding division. Cross-references to the loan agreement, the indenture, or the Official Statement are provided where applicable to place the information in its proper context.

Annual Financial and Operating Information

The Obligor incorporates by reference its audited financial statements for the fiscal year covered by this report, when and if available. Complete copies of those audited financial statements are available upon request from the Obligor at its principal place of business. This Annual Report is filed under the annual financial information covenant of the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking described in the Official Statement, and the audited financial statements will be added to the record on EMMA once they are available.

Because the Project is a single-tenant industrial facility, the operating data that a report of this kind customarily discusses are those that bear on the continuation of the Company's operations at the Project under the Loan Agreement and the Indenture. The next division accordingly presents facility utilization information, including the Company's occupancy and operation of the Project throughout the fiscal year and any extended closure, curtailment, or other interruption that would be material to the Project's availability. Production or throughput levels are described where relevant to the industrial activity conducted at the Project, and any material change in the nature of the Company's operations at the Project, as compared with the operations described in the Official Statement, is identified. The purpose of this operating information is to supplement the financial statements with a qualitative view of the Project's ongoing function as collateral for the bonds.

Condensed operating data for the fiscal year and the Obligor's covenant compliance for the fiscal year are discussed in the following two divisions of this report. The first of those divisions sets forth the condensed operating data described in the preceding paragraph, and the second reports the Obligor's compliance with the covenants set forth in the Loan Agreement and the Indenture. The definitions and provisions of the Loan Agreement and the Indenture, as described in the Official Statement, apply to the condensed operating data and covenant compliance discussion. Those two divisions should be read alongside the audited financial statements incorporated by reference.

This report does not restate the Obligor's complete financial statements and is not intended to be read in isolation from the Official Statement or the Obligor's audited financial statements. The condensed operating data and covenant compliance discussion provided in the following divisions are qualified in their entirety by the more detailed information contained in those sources. Readers should review this report together with the Official Statement, the audited financial statements, and the operative documents identified therein to obtain a complete understanding of the Obligor and the Project.

Operating Results for the Fiscal Year

The Obligor's facility utilization recovered during fiscal year two thousand twenty-five from the softened conditions reported in the prior fiscal year's Annual Report. Throughput and related operating activity increased progressively through the year, reflecting a return of customer demand toward levels more consistent with historical operating norms. The Obligor believes this recovery is attributable in part to improving market conditions and to the operational measures discussed below. Comparative utilization statistics are presented in the tables contained in this Annual Report.

During the fiscal year, the general industry and market conditions experienced by the Obligor and similarly situated industrial or manufacturing companies were characterized by a gradual easing of supply chain constraints, continued volatility in certain input costs, and cautious ordering patterns among customers. Demand in the broader market was supported by steady consumption but remained sensitive to changes in financing costs and to customer inventory management strategies. These conditions created a competitive environment in which price discipline and reliable delivery performance were important determinants of operating results. The Obligor's experience during the period was consistent with the market conditions described in the Official Statement.

In response to these conditions, the Obligor's management adjusted production schedules to align more closely with customer order patterns and took steps to manage raw material and component procurement without accumulating excess inventory. Management also maintained a flexible staffing arrangement and prioritized critical maintenance expenditures, while deferring nonessential capital outlays, consistent with the operational framework described in the Loan Agreement and the Indenture. These actions were designed to preserve liquidity, maintain service continuity, and support the Obligor's ongoing operations. Management continues to review its operating plans in light of evolving market conditions.

Past operating results, including the recovery described in this Annual Report, are not necessarily indicative of future results, and no assurance can be given as to the Obligor's future operating performance. The Obligor's future performance will depend on many factors, including general economic conditions, customer demand, input costs, and the continued availability of the operational and financial resources described in the Official Statement. Accordingly, readers should not place undue reliance on historical operating data when making investment decisions. This cautionary statement is made in the context of the forward-looking information included in the Official Statement and the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking.

Covenant Compliance for the Fiscal Year

The Company satisfied the minimum debt service coverage ratio covenant set forth in the Loan Agreement between the Authority and the Company for fiscal year twenty twenty-five, and the headroom over the required minimum was greater than the headroom achieved in the prior fiscal year. This recovery in headroom follows the weaker coverage result reported for the immediately preceding fiscal year, but the current year's headroom nonetheless remained below the level reported two fiscal years earlier. The coverage calculation for the fiscal year was prepared on the basis described in the Loan Agreement and the Official Statement, and the result is reflected in the tables accompanying this Annual Report.

The determination of covenant compliance for fiscal year twenty twenty-five was made in accordance with the definitions, accounting treatments, and calculation methodology set forth in the Loan Agreement, without restating the calculation itself in this Annual Report. In particular, the debt service coverage ratio was computed using the components and adjustments specified in the Loan Agreement, including any applicable provisions for transfers, reserves, and operating expenses as defined therein. The Company has not repeated the numerical computation in this narrative, as the governing documents specify the manner in which the calculation is to be performed and verified.

The Company is also subject to other customary covenants under the Loan Agreement, including an additional-indebtedness restriction, an insurance covenant, and a maintenance-of-the-Project covenant, each of which is set forth in the Loan Agreement and incorporated by reference into the Indenture. These covenants impose ongoing obligations relating to the incurrence of further debt, the maintenance of insurance coverage on the Project, and the preservation and repair of the Project in accordance with applicable requirements. As of the date of this report, the Company was in compliance with each of these covenants, and no event of noncompliance has been identified with respect to any such obligation. No specific ratio or threshold is stated here for any of these covenants, because the covenants are qualitative or are measured by standards set out in the Loan Agreement.

A failure by the Company to comply with any covenant contained in the Loan Agreement, if not cured within any applicable cure period, could constitute an event of default under the Loan Agreement and the Indenture. The Loan Agreement and the Indenture prescribe the applicable cure periods and the remedies available upon an event of default, and such remedies may include acceleration of the bonds. As of the date of this report, no uncured default under any covenant of the Loan Agreement exists.

Significant Events; Compliance History

The Bonds' outstanding par amount and most recently reported secondary-market yield are restated in the tables accompanying this Annual Report, with the secondary-market yield as reported through the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system. No rating action was taken on the Bonds during fiscal year twenty twenty-five, and the Bonds were not called for redemption during that fiscal year. The Bonds carry a single Moody's rating, and no other rating agency maintains a rating on the Bonds. This paragraph addresses the annual financial-information filing covenant only.

Consistent with the disclosure conventions introduced by the Securities and Exchange Commission's twenty eighteen amendments to the continuing-disclosure rule, the Obligor has conducted a review of its compliance, in all material respects, with its continuing disclosure undertakings over the five years ending with the current fiscal year. The review encompasses the annual financial-information filing covenant described in the Official Statement and the provisions of the Loan Agreement and the Indenture that pertain to the Obligor's disclosure obligations. That review shows no instance of material non-compliance other than as otherwise disclosed in this Annual Report.

This Annual Report covers the third consecutive fiscal year of the five-year compliance-history period that a prospective purchaser is invited to review when evaluating the Bonds. The two preceding annual reports in that five-year period have been filed through the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system in accordance with the continuing disclosure undertaking. The accompanying financial information, read together with the Official Statement, permits a prospective purchaser to review the Obligor's disclosure performance across the five-year period.

As of the date of this Annual Report, the Obligor is not aware of any pending or threatened material litigation against the Authority or the Obligor relating to the Bonds. The Obligor has made reasonable inquiry of its officers and management and, to its knowledge, no claim, action, or proceeding has been asserted or commenced that would reasonably be expected to affect the payment of principal or interest on the Bonds or the Obligor's performance under the Loan Agreement or the Indenture. No such action or proceeding has been served on the Authority or the Obligor, and no material litigation concerning the Bonds is pending in any court, before any arbitrator, or in any administrative agency.

Current Rating

The Bonds carry a current rating from a single rating agency, as set forth in the Current Ratings table included elsewhere in this Annual Report. The rating designation itself is not restated in this section, because that table is the controlling reference for the precise rating information. This section does not amend or supersede the rating disclosure contained in the Official Statement.

That rating reflects only the opinion of the assigning rating agency as of the date on which it was issued. The rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell, or hold the Bonds, and no investor or market participant should treat it as such. The rating should be read together with the agency's published criteria and with the risk factors described in the Official Statement.

There is no assurance that the rating will continue for any given period, and the rating agency may revise, suspend, or withdraw the rating at any time in its sole discretion. Any such action could adversely affect the market price or liquidity of the Bonds. Neither the Authority nor the Company has undertaken in this Annual Report to monitor or report changes in the rating beyond the annual financial-information filing covenant described in the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking.

As background only, and without restating any specific rating notation on either scale, the rating scale applicable to municipal issuers is not directly comparable to the rating scale applicable to corporate issuers. The two scales reflect different credit characteristics, legal frameworks, and market considerations, and an investor should not equate a municipal rating designation with a similarly worded corporate rating designation. This background observation is provided for context only and is not itself a rating opinion.

Continuing Disclosure Undertaking — Annual Report Filing Deadline

The deadline for this filing is fixed by the Obligor's Continuing Disclosure Undertaking, set out in the Official Statement and restated in each prior Annual Report: the Annual Report must reach the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system no later than one hundred eighty days after the end of each fiscal year of the Obligor. This Annual Report is filed within that deadline for the most recently completed fiscal year.

The Obligor has covenanted, in the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking described in the Official Statement, to file an Annual Report with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system, containing the financial information and operating data specified in the Undertaking and in the Official Statement. This Annual Report for fiscal year 2025 is submitted pursuant to that covenant and is intended to satisfy the Obligor's annual financial-information filing obligation for the fiscal year just ended. The specific filing deadline and the contents required are as provided in the Undertaking and as further described in the Official Statement, to which reference is made.

The Obligor's Annual Report and all other filings made by the Obligor under the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking are available to the public on the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system, commonly known as EMMA. This availability satisfies the dissemination requirement of the Undertaking, and the Obligor has no obligation to distribute paper copies to Bondholders. Interested parties may access these filings directly through the EMMA website.

Under the terms of the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking, and as provided in the Loan Agreement and the Indenture, a failure by the Obligor to comply with this annual filing covenant does not by itself constitute an event of default under either the Loan Agreement or the Indenture. However, any Bondholder may seek specific performance of the covenant, compelling the Obligor to make the required filing, and such remedy is expressly preserved in the Undertaking. No monetary damages remedy is available for such a failure, and the Obligor's liability is limited to equitable relief as described in the Undertaking.

The Continuing Disclosure Undertaking was entered into by the Obligor solely for the purpose of assisting the underwriter of the Bonds in complying with Rule 15c2-12 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as that rule applies to the offering of the Bonds. The Undertaking is not made for the benefit of any other party, and no other person or entity may assert a claim for breach of the Undertaking other than as expressly set forth therein. This purpose is stated in the Undertaking and is acknowledged in the Official Statement.

Additional Indebtedness During the Fiscal Year

During the fiscal year two thousand twenty-five, the Company incurred no new indebtedness ranking equally with or senior to the guarantee supporting the Bonds. This position is consistent with the recovery in operating conditions reported above in this Annual Report, which has allowed the Company to meet its capital needs without adding obligations in that priority. As a result, the priority of the guarantee supporting the Bonds relative to other obligations of the Company remains unchanged from the position described in the Official Statement.

The Loan Agreement and the Indenture do not prohibit all additional indebtedness of the Company or its corporate parent. Rather, those agreements establish financial and other conditions that, if satisfied, may permit additional indebtedness, and neither document contains a blanket restriction on new obligations at the Company or its corporate parent. Consequently, the absence of new additional indebtedness during the fiscal year is not itself a covenant requirement, but merely the position of the Obligor as of the date of this Annual Report.

Any additional indebtedness that the Company or its corporate parent incurs in the future could rank equally with, or, in the case of secured debt, ahead of, the guarantee supporting the Bonds. This risk is described in the Bondholders' Risks discussion in the Official Statement in the context of additional indebtedness. The Obligor refers readers to that discussion for a fuller explanation of the potential effects on the guarantee.

The Obligor will disclose any material change in this position in a future Annual Report or, if applicable, in a notice of a material event filed under the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system. The determination of whether a change is material will be made in light of the facts and circumstances existing at the time and the terms of the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking. No such material change has occurred as of the date of this Annual Report.

Bonds Outstanding — Outstanding Par Amount

As of the date of this Annual Report, the Bonds remain outstanding in the aggregate outstanding par amount of $24,500,000.00, unchanged from the amount originally issued because no mandatory sinking fund redemption of the Term Bond and no optional redemption has yet occurred.

As of the date of this Annual Report, the Bonds' outstanding par amount is presented in the table titled Bonds Outstanding in the Financial Information section of this report, and that amount constitutes the aggregate principal amount of Bonds that remain unpaid under the Indenture. The outstanding par amount reflects the original issuance of the Bonds as described in the Official Statement, with no adjustments having been made to the principal balance since the date of original delivery. Pursuant to the Indenture, the Trustee maintains records of all Bonds issued and any reductions to the aggregate principal amount resulting from payments or redemptions.

No mandatory sinking fund redemption of the Term Bond has yet occurred, and no optional redemption of any Bond has been exercised as of the date of this Annual Report. Consequently, the outstanding par amount remains unchanged from the amount originally issued, which is set forth in the original Official Statement. This status is consistent with the redemption schedule set out in the Indenture, which does not provide for any mandatory sinking fund payments for the Term Bond prior to the current fiscal year.

The serial bonds and the term bond amortize on the schedules described in the Official Statement, with serial bond principal payments having commenced according to that schedule. Mandatory sinking fund redemptions of the Term Bond are scheduled to begin in a later year, as specified in the amortization schedule incorporated into the Loan Agreement and the Indenture. The Obligor has made all required debt service payments to date, and the Trustee has applied those payments in accordance with the priority provisions of the Indenture.

A Bondholder may confirm the current outstanding par amount at any time by reference to the Trustee's own bond register, which is maintained pursuant to the Indenture. The bond register reflects the original issuance of each Bond and any subsequent reductions due to redemption, payment, or transfer, and thus provides authoritative information about the remaining principal balance. This annual report does not supersede the bond register, and the Trustee's records are the definitive source for verifying the exact amount of Bonds outstanding.

Secondary Market and Market Yield

Consistent with municipal secondary-market convention, the Bonds are quoted principally by market yield, rather than by price, on the secondary market. The most recently reported market yield for the Bonds, as reflected in reported secondary-market trade data, was 4.250%.

Consistent with municipal-market convention, the Bonds are quoted principally by market yield, rather than by price, on the secondary market. This convention is the opposite emphasis from a corporate bond, where the price is the contractually traded quantity and yield is a derived convenience figure. Yield-based quotation for municipal securities reflects the customary comparison of tax-exempt obligations on a common yield basis, and the trading records for the Bonds maintained under the Indenture and referenced in the Official Statement are consistent with that practice.

As of the date of this Annual Report, the most recently reported market yield for the Bonds is stated elsewhere in this report; no yield figure is repeated in this section. The reported figure is drawn from the secondary-market reporting service that the Obligor monitors under the continuing disclosure undertaking, and it should be read together with the trade data and other information set forth in the tables accompanying this Annual Report. That presentation is intended to give Bondholders and market participants a single, current reference for the latest observable yield without embedding a stale figure in the narrative text.

Secondary-market yield reflects prevailing market conditions at the time of the reported trade and does not necessarily indicate the yield at which a Bondholder could transact on any other date. Factors such as the size of a proposed transaction, the time of day, prevailing interest rate levels, and the liquidity of the Bonds may cause an actual transaction yield to differ from the most recently reported yield. Accordingly, the reported market yield is informational only and is not a representation by the Authority, the Company, or the Obligor that any particular yield is available.

Past secondary-market yield is not necessarily indicative of the yield or price at which the Bonds may trade in the future. This customary cautionary statement applies to all market information included or referenced in this Annual Report, and no person should rely on historical yield levels as a forecast of future performance. Market participants should evaluate current market conditions, the financial condition of the Authority and the Company, and the terms of the Loan Agreement and the Indenture before making any investment or trading decision.

Insurance and Casualty

The Company maintains insurance on the Project of the kinds and in the amounts required by the Loan Agreement, and such coverage remained in full force and effect throughout the fiscal year twenty twenty-five. The Company has received no notice from any insurer of cancellation, nonrenewal, or material reduction in coverage with respect to any policy required to be maintained under the Loan Agreement. No material casualty loss affecting the Project occurred during the fiscal year, and no material casualty claim is pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened.

Facilities of the type comprising the Project are customarily insured under two principal kinds of coverage: property insurance, which indemnifies the owner against physical loss or damage to the facility, and commercial general liability insurance, which protects against claims for bodily injury and property damage arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of the facility. The Loan Agreement requires the Company to maintain these kinds of coverage with limits and deductibles consistent with those customarily maintained by owners and operators of comparable facilities. The property insurance is maintained on a form that includes fire and extended perils, and the commercial general liability insurance is maintained on an occurrence basis, as more particularly described in the Official Statement.

If a casualty loss affecting the Project were ever to occur, the proceeds of any casualty insurance maintained by the Company would be applied in accordance with the Indenture. Under the Indenture, such proceeds are required to be paid to or held by the Trustee and applied either to the restoration, repair, or replacement of the Project or to the redemption of the Bonds, as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture. Pending such application, the proceeds would be held and invested as provided in the Indenture, with any earnings thereon applied in the manner set forth in that document.

During the fiscal year twenty twenty-five, the Obligor furnished the Trustee with evidence of its continued insurance coverage on the Project, as required by the Loan Agreement. Such evidence consisted of certificates of insurance or other documentation reasonably acceptable to the Trustee, identifying the kinds and amounts of coverage maintained by the Company and confirming that each policy required by the Loan Agreement remained in full force and effect. The Obligor has complied in all material respects with the insurance-related reporting and evidence requirements of the Loan Agreement for the fiscal year.

Miscellaneous

This Annual Report is furnished solely pursuant to the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking described in the Official Statement. The Obligor's delivery of this report satisfies its annual financial information filing covenant under that undertaking, which is incorporated by reference into the Loan Agreement and the Indenture. No other covenant or obligation of the Obligor, whether under the Loan Agreement, the Indenture, or the Official Statement, is addressed by this filing.

Statements of opinion contained in this Annual Report are not representations of fact. Any such statements speak only as of their respective dates, and the Obligor undertakes no obligation to update them, whether as a result of new information, subsequent events, or otherwise. The foregoing is consistent with the terms of the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking described in the Official Statement.

The Obligor has authorized the filing of this Annual Report. This authorization was made by the appropriate officer of the Company in accordance with the corporate resolution and the terms of the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking. The filing of this report does not require the consent or approval of the Authority.

Further information concerning the Bonds, the Authority, or the Obligor may be obtained by referring to the Official Statement and the Obligor's other filings on the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system. That system is commonly known as EMMA, and the Official Statement is available from the Authority as well as through EMMA. The Obligor's filings on EMMA include this Annual Report and any other documents posted pursuant to the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking.
