NOTICE OF MATERIAL EVENT

This notice is filed pursuant to the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking described in the Official Statement for the $24,500,000.00 Industrial Development Revenue Bonds (Company Project), Series 2019 (the "Bonds"), issued by the Authority, and reports the redemption of a portion of one serial maturity of the Bonds, as described below.

CUSIP Number(s):

M0100XAA1 (the affected maturity only)

Category 8 ("Bond Calls"), Rule 15c2-12(b)(5)(i)(C), Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Date of this notice: 2026-06-12.

The event described below occurred on 2026-06-03; this notice is filed on 2026-06-12 - 7 business day(s) later, and within ten business days of that occurrence - as the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking requires.

Introduction and Notice of Redemption

(a) This notice is filed on EMMA pursuant to the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking described in the Official Statement, reporting a bond call under Rule 15c2-12's Bond Calls category, as identified by number elsewhere in this notice. The event concerns a United States municipal conduit industrial revenue bond issued by the Authority, with the Company as Obligor and the guarantor providing credit support. This filing is made to satisfy the disclosure obligation of the Authority and the Company under the undertaking.

(b) This notice reports the redemption of a portion of one serial maturity of the Bonds, not a redemption of all Outstanding Bonds. The portion being redeemed is limited to the particular serial maturity and amount described elsewhere in this notice. All other Outstanding Bonds of that maturity and all other maturities remain outstanding after the redemption date.

(c) This redemption is being effected in accordance with the Indenture's own redemption provisions, summarized in the Official Statement under "THE BONDS — REDEMPTION PROVISIONS." That summary describes the terms under which the Authority may direct the redemption of a portion of the Bonds, including the selection of the affected maturity and the applicable redemption provisions. This notice is being filed in accordance with those Indenture provisions and the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking.

(d) The specific maturity, CUSIP number, redemption price, and redemption date applicable to this partial redemption are stated elsewhere in this notice. This notice should be read together with those particulars for a complete description of the affected Bonds. No additional information concerning those items is set forth in this introduction.

Description of the Extraordinary Optional Redemption

On 2026-06-03, notice of redemption was given, not less than thirty days before the redemption date, to the registered owners of the Bonds bearing CUSIP M0100XAA1, that $400,000.00 in aggregate principal amount of that maturity has been called for redemption, in whole or in part, selected by lot, on 2026-07-03, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount to be redeemed, plus accrued interest to the redemption date, payable at the office of the Trustee (as paying agent). This is an extraordinary optional redemption from net proceeds of casualty insurance relating to the Project under the Indenture's own extraordinary-redemption provision - it is NOT the ordinary optional redemption described in the Official Statement (not eligible until June 1, 2029) and NOT the mandatory sinking fund redemption of the Term Bond described therein (not eligible until June 1, 2034), neither of which has yet commenced.

Pursuant to the Indenture, the Bonds are subject to extraordinary optional redemption prior to maturity, in whole or in part, from net insurance or condemnation proceeds received with respect to damage to, or condemnation of, a portion of the Project. This redemption provision is separate and distinct from the ordinary optional redemption and the mandatory sinking fund redemption described in the Official Statement. The exercise of this extraordinary option is not dependent upon the Company's ongoing ability to pay debt service, but rather upon the occurrence of a casualty or taking and the receipt of proceeds therefor. Such a redemption is customarily structured to retire only so much of the Bonds as corresponds to the affected portion of the Project.

Following the casualty or condemnation event, the Company evaluated whether to restore the affected portion of the Project and determined not to do so. In lieu of restoration, the Company directed the Trustee to apply the net proceeds received from the insurer or condemning authority to the redemption of Bonds. This direction is consistent with the provisions of the Indenture authorizing the extraordinary optional redemption and does not constitute a mandatory sinking fund redemption. The Company's election not to restore the affected portion of the Project has been communicated to the Trustee in accordance with the Indenture.

If fewer than all of the Outstanding Bonds of a maturity are called for redemption, the Trustee shall select the Bonds to be redeemed by lot in such manner as the Trustee, in its discretion, deems fair and appropriate. The selection will be made among the Outstanding Bonds of that maturity in accordance with the Indenture, and portions of Bonds in authorized denominations may be selected for redemption in whole or in part. The Official Statement describes this same lot-selection mechanism, and no preference or priority is given among Bonds of the same maturity based on ownership, purchase date, or holder identity. The redemption price and accrued interest for each selected Bond will be determined as set forth in the redemption notice.

Debt service on the Bonds that are not called for redemption will continue unaffected by the redemption. Principal of and interest on such uncalled Bonds will remain payable in accordance with the Indenture and the Official Statement on their regularly scheduled payment dates. The extraordinary optional redemption does not alter the security, priority, or source of payment for the uncalled Bonds, and no sinking fund or amortization schedule is accelerated as a result of the partial redemption. Holders of uncalled Bonds are not required to take any action in connection with the redemption.

Effect on Bondholders; Distinction from the Ordinary Redemption Provisions

Interest on the Bonds called for redemption will cease to accrue on and after the redemption date stated elsewhere in this notice. Registered owners of those Bonds will have no further claim to interest beyond the redemption price, which reflects the amount due upon redemption under the Indenture. After the redemption date, the only remaining entitlement of such registered owners is to receive the redemption price upon due surrender of the Bonds.

This redemption is an extraordinary optional redemption and is separate from both the ordinary optional redemption and the mandatory sinking fund redemption of the Term Bond described in the Official Statement. The ordinary optional redemption is not yet eligible for exercise, and the mandatory sinking fund redemption of the Term Bond is likewise not yet eligible and has not been invoked. This redemption uses neither of those two provisions. Instead, it is being effected under the separate extraordinary optional redemption provision of the Indenture, as set forth elsewhere in this notice.

Bonds of the affected maturity not selected for redemption will remain Outstanding under their original terms. Those Bonds will continue to bear interest at the rate and on the payment dates set forth in the Indenture and the Official Statement. They will also continue to amortize as originally scheduled, with no acceleration or alteration of their stated maturities. The partial redemption affects only the specific Bonds identified for redemption in the accompanying notice.

The Trustee, as paying agent, will pay the redemption price and accrued interest to registered owners of the Bonds called for redemption upon presentation and surrender of those Bonds. This payment will be made in accordance with the ordinary payment mechanics set forth in the Indenture for a redemption of this kind. Registered owners should follow the presentment instructions provided for the redemption and should not expect payment without surrender.

Miscellaneous

This notice does not modify, amend or supplement the Bonds, the Indenture or the Loan Agreement in any respect beyond the redemption described herein. The partial redemption of a portion of the outstanding Bonds has been effected solely in accordance with the governing documents and the terms disclosed in the Official Statement. All other provisions of the Bonds, the Indenture and the Loan Agreement remain in full force and effect.

Statements of opinion in this notice are not representations of fact and speak only as of their respective dates. No inference should be drawn that any statement made in this notice remains accurate at any later date. The information contained herein is provided for the benefit of the beneficial owners and the municipal securities market generally.

The Obligor has authorized the filing of this notice. This filing is made in accordance with the terms of the continuing disclosure agreement and the requirements of Rule 15c2-12. The Authority and the Company have cooperated in the preparation and dissemination of this material event notice.

Further information may be obtained by referring to the Official Statement and the Obligor's other filings on the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system. Those filings contain additional information concerning the Bonds, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement and the security for the Bonds. Interested parties are directed to those sources for a complete description of the transaction.
