NEW ISSUE — BOOK-ENTRY ONLY

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

$24,500,000.00 Industrial Development Revenue Bonds (Company Project), Series 2019, issued by the Authority (a conduit issuer, as described herein).

LIMITED OBLIGATIONS OF THE AUTHORITY PAYABLE SOLELY FROM THE REVENUES. THE BONDS DO NOT CONSTITUTE A DEBT OR GENERAL OBLIGATION OF THE AUTHORITY, THE STATE, OR ANY POLITICAL SUBDIVISION THEREOF, AND NEITHER THE FAITH AND CREDIT NOR THE TAXING POWER OF ANY OF THE FOREGOING IS PLEDGED TO THE PAYMENT OF THE BONDS.

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, interest on the Bonds is excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes, subject to the qualifications described herein under "Tax Matters," including the alternative minimum tax treatment described therein.

Rating: Moody's: A3 (see "Rating" herein).

The Bonds are issuable only as fully registered bonds in book-entry-only form through the facilities of The Depository Trust Company, in denominations of 100,000.00 and any integral multiple of 5,000.00 in excess thereof, and are not issuable in smaller denominations. See "THE BONDS — BOOK-ENTRY-ONLY SYSTEM" and Appendix E herein.

Maturity schedules, interest rates and CUSIP numbers for the Bonds are set forth on the inside cover page of this Official Statement. See "MATURITY SCHEDULE" below.

This cover page contains information for quick reference only. It is not a summary of this Official Statement. Investors must read this entire Official Statement, including Appendix A, to obtain information essential to the making of an informed investment decision.

Table of Contents

Introduction

Plan of Finance

The Bonds — Authorization and General Terms

The Bonds — Book-Entry-Only System

The Bonds — Redemption Provisions

Security and Sources of Payment

The Project

The Company

The Authority

Rating

Tax Matters

Bondholders' Risks

Continuing Disclosure

Legal Matters and Litigation

Underwriting

Appendix A — Selected Financial Information of the Obligor

Appendix B — Form of Opinion of Bond Counsel

Appendix C — Form of Continuing Disclosure Undertaking

Appendix D — Summary of the Trust Indenture and the Loan Agreement

Appendix E — Book-Entry-Only System

Maturity Schedule

The Bonds are issuable as serial bonds maturing on the dates and in the principal amounts, and bearing interest at the rates, set forth below, plus one term bond maturing as set forth below and subject to mandatory sinking fund redemption as described under "THE BONDS — REDEMPTION PROVISIONS."

Maturity Date	Principal Amount	Interest Rate	CUSIP
2027-06-01	2,800,000.00	3.75000%	M0100XAA1
2028-06-01	2,900,000.00	3.85000%	M0100XAB1
2029-06-01	3,000,000.00	3.95000%	M0100XAC1
2030-06-01	3,100,000.00	4.00000%	M0100XAD1
2031-06-01	3,200,000.00	4.05000%	M0100XAE1
2032-06-01	3,300,000.00	4.10000%	M0100XAF1
2033-06-01	3,400,000.00	4.10000%	M0100XAG1
2039-06-01 (Term Bond)	2,800,000.00	4.25000%	M0100XAH1

Mandatory Sinking Fund Redemption Schedule (Term Bond)

The Term Bond is subject to mandatory sinking fund redemption, in part, on each June 1 set forth below, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount to be redeemed, without premium, plus accrued interest to the redemption date, in the amounts set forth below.

Sinking Fund Payment Date	Principal Amount
2034-06-01	450,000.00
2035-06-01	460,000.00
2036-06-01	470,000.00
2037-06-01	480,000.00
2038-06-01	490,000.00
2039-06-01	450,000.00

Introduction

This Official Statement is furnished in connection with the offering by the Authority of its Industrial Development Revenue Bonds (the Company Project), Series Two Thousand Nineteen. The Authority is acting solely as a conduit issuer with respect to the Bonds. The Company is the Obligor under the Loan Agreement and is responsible for the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds. The Bonds are payable solely from and secured by payments made by the Company under the Loan Agreement and by the trust estate described in the Indenture.

This Introduction is qualified in its entirety by reference to the more detailed information set forth elsewhere in this Official Statement, including the descriptions of the Bonds, the Project, the Company, the Authority, security and sources of payment, and the summaries of the Indenture and the Loan Agreement in Appendix D.

Plan of Finance

The Bonds are issued by an industrial development authority (the "Issuer") organized under state law for the purpose of financing capital improvements at facilities operated by the Company (the "Obligor"). The Issuer is a conduit issuer only; it has no taxing power, no obligation to levy any tax, and no source of revenue with which to pay debt service on the Bonds other than payments received from the Obligor under the underlying loan agreement and the guarantee described below. Investors must look solely to the Obligor's guarantee for repayment; the Issuer's own credit is not, and is not intended to be, a source of security for the Bonds.

The Issuer is issuing $24,500,000.00 aggregate principal amount of the Bonds to finance a portion of the costs of acquiring, constructing and equipping the Project (as described under "THE PROJECT" below) for the benefit of the Company, and to pay costs of issuance of the Bonds.

This Plan of Finance describes the application of the proceeds of the bonds and the authorized basis for their issuance. The Authority will issue the bonds pursuant to a bond resolution adopted by the Authority for this specific financing. The bonds are being issued in an aggregate principal amount as set forth elsewhere in this Official Statement, and the proceeds will be used to finance capital improvements at the Project, together with certain costs of issuance and other permitted expenses.

The Obligor will be required to make payments sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds in accordance with the loan agreement and related documents. The Authority's issuance of the bonds does not constitute a debt, pledge, or moral obligation of the Authority, the State, or any political subdivision thereof, and the bonds will be payable solely from amounts received from the Obligor and other amounts pledged under the indenture and ancillary documents.

As described in this Plan of Finance, the Company will apply the proceeds of the bonds to fund capital improvements at the Project. The Authority has determined that the issuance is authorized by and in compliance with the bond resolution adopted for this specific financing.

The Bonds — Authorization and General Terms

The Bonds are authorized to be issued by the Authority pursuant to the Authority's enabling legislation, as amended, and pursuant to a bond resolution adopted by the Authority and a trust indenture entered into between the Authority and a trustee. The bond resolution and the trust indenture establish the terms and conditions under which the Bonds are issued, secured, and payable. The Bonds are limited obligations of the Authority payable solely from amounts received by the Authority under the loan agreement and other related documents with the Company, which is referred to herein as the Obligor.

The Bonds are issued as both serial bonds and one term bond. The Bonds bear interest payable semiannually and are issued as fully registered bonds as to principal and interest. The maturity schedule for the Bonds appears elsewhere in this Official Statement.

The Bonds — Book-Entry-Only System

The Depository Trust Company (DTC) acts as securities depository for the Bonds. The Bonds are registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee for DTC. Beneficial owners of the Bonds will not receive physical certificates. Payments of principal, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds are made by the Authority to DTC, which in turn credits such payments to DTC participants, which then credit the beneficial owners.

A full description of DTC's book-entry procedures appears in Appendix E to this Official Statement.

The Bonds — Redemption Provisions

Optional Redemption. The Bonds are subject to optional redemption at par beginning June 1, 2029, at the Issuer's option, upon direction of the Obligor, in whole or in part on any date thereafter, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount to be redeemed, plus accrued interest to the redemption date, without premium.

Mandatory Sinking Fund Redemption. The Term Bonds are subject to mandatory sinking fund redemption prior to maturity, in part, on each June 1 commencing in the year set forth in the sinking fund schedule below, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount to be redeemed, without premium, plus accrued interest to the redemption date.

The Bonds are subject to redemption prior to maturity as provided in this Section. The specific optional redemption prices and mandatory sinking fund redemption prices are set forth elsewhere in this Official Statement.

Notice of the redemption of any Bonds shall be given by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to the registered owners of the Bonds to be redeemed at their addresses as they appear on the registration books of the Authority not less than thirty days before the redemption date. Each notice of redemption shall state the redemption date, the redemption price or prices, the place or places where amounts due upon redemption will be payable, and the numbers or other distinguishing marks of the Bonds or portions of Bonds to be redeemed.

If less than all of the Outstanding Bonds are to be redeemed, the Authority shall select the Bonds to be redeemed by lot in such manner as the Authority, in its sole discretion, shall determine. The Authority may redeem portions of Bonds, and any such portion shall be in the authorized denomination for the Bonds.

If notice of redemption has been duly given as described above and moneys for payment of the redemption price have been deposited or made available with the paying agent, then on the redemption date the Bonds called for redemption shall become due and payable, and interest on such Bonds shall cease to accrue on and after the redemption date. Bonds called for redemption shall no longer be deemed Outstanding under the Indenture, and the registered owners thereof shall have no further claim to interest, except the right to receive the redemption price.

Security and Sources of Payment

Payment of principal of, and interest on, the Bonds is secured by an unconditional guarantee delivered by the Obligor's corporate parent, pursuant to which the guarantor unconditionally guarantees the full and punctual payment of all amounts due on the Bonds when due, whether at stated maturity, upon mandatory sinking fund redemption, upon optional redemption or otherwise. The guarantee is not secured by a lien on any specific collateral and ranks pari passu with the guarantor's other unsecured, unsubordinated indebtedness.

The Indenture further provides, under the caption "Bonds Not General Obligations" in Section 2.05 thereof, that the Bonds are limited, special obligations of the Authority payable solely from the Revenues, and, under the caption "No General Obligations" in Section 7.01 thereof, that the Bonds do not constitute a debt, liability or general obligation of the Authority, the State, or any political subdivision thereof, and that neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the Authority, the State or any political subdivision thereof is pledged to the payment of the Bonds.

As security for the Bonds, the Authority has assigned to the Trustee, for the benefit of the Bondholders, all of its rights under the Loan Agreement. The assignment is made under the Indenture and includes, without limitation, the Authority's right to receive loan payments from the Company and to enforce the payment obligations of the Company under the Loan Agreement.

The Bond Fund held by the Trustee under the Indenture is the mechanism through which loan payments are applied to debt service. All amounts received by the Trustee in respect of the Loan Agreement, including scheduled loan payments from the Company, are deposited into the Bond Fund. Moneys in the Bond Fund are held in trust and applied by the Trustee to pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds when due, and for no other purpose except as expressly authorized in the Indenture.

In addition to the corporate guarantee described elsewhere in this Official Statement, the foregoing assignment of the Authority's rights in the Loan Agreement and the operation of the Bond Fund together constitute the security and sources of payment for the Bonds. The Bonds are limited obligations of the Authority payable solely from amounts received under the Loan Agreement and any other amounts available under the Indenture. The Authority has no taxing power and no obligation to pay the Bonds from any source other than the trust estate established under the Indenture.

The Project

The Project consists of a single industrial manufacturing facility to be owned and operated by the Company as the Obligor under the Bonds. The facility will be located on a site within the jurisdiction of the Authority and will include the buildings, structures, machinery, equipment, and other improvements and appurtenances necessary or appropriate for the Company's manufacturing operations.

The Authority determines that the facility constitutes a "project" within the meaning of the Authority's enabling legislation, under which the Authority is authorized to issue revenue bonds to finance the costs of industrial or manufacturing facilities for the benefit of private business enterprises. The proceeds of the Bonds will be used to finance, refinance, or reimburse the costs of the Project, all as described in this Official Statement.

The Company

The Company, which is the Obligor under the Bond issued by the Authority, is a privately held corporation duly organized and validly existing under the laws of its state of incorporation. The Company is an industrial manufacturing business that designs, fabricates, and sells a range of products for use in commercial, institutional, and governmental applications. The Company operates its principal manufacturing and administrative facilities in the United States, and references to the Company include its subsidiaries and affiliated entities as the context requires.

The Company has been in operation for more than fifty years and has built its business through organic growth and selected acquisitions. The Company’s product lines serve diverse end markets, and sales are made primarily to customers located in North America. The Company employs personnel in administrative, engineering, production, and sales functions, with staffing levels varying according to production schedules, customer demand, and general economic conditions.

The Company is not publicly traded, and its equity securities are not listed on any national securities exchange. The Company is not subject to the periodic reporting requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and no information concerning the Company is incorporated by reference from any other source. Certain financial and operating information concerning the Company is included in this Official Statement, and prospective investors should review that information in its entirety.

Additional financial information about the Company, including audited financial statements for the most recent fiscal year and any required interim financial information, is set forth in Appendix A to this Official Statement. The financial information contained in Appendix A should be read in conjunction with the description of the Company set forth in this section.

The Authority

The Authority is an industrial development authority duly organized and existing under the laws of the state in which it was created, with the power to issue revenue bonds and to lend the proceeds thereof to industrial enterprises for the purpose of financing qualified projects. The Authority is authorized to issue the Bonds as conduit revenue obligations under applicable state law.

The Bonds are special, limited obligations of the Authority. The Authority has no financial responsibility for the Bonds and no obligation to pay the principal of, premium, if any, or interest on the Bonds except from payments made by the Company under the loan agreement and, to the extent provided, by the guarantee. The Authority is not otherwise liable on the Bonds, and neither the state nor any political subdivision thereof is liable on the Bonds. The Authority's obligations under the Bonds are solely administrative, consisting of the receipt and transmission of payments from the Company and the guarantee.

Rating

Moody's has assigned the Bonds a rating of A3, on Moody's's own municipal-bond rating scale, which is not directly comparable to a corporate issuer's rating scale used elsewhere in the deal documents for the Senior Notes and the revolving credit facility. There is no assurance that any such rating will continue for any given period of time or that it will not be revised or withdrawn entirely if, in the judgment of the rating agency, circumstances so warrant. Any downward revision or withdrawal of the rating could have an adverse effect on the market price of the Bonds.

Tax Matters

Bond Counsel has designated the Bonds as private activity bonds within the meaning of Section 141 of the Internal Revenue Code. In the opinion of Bond Counsel, interest on the Bonds is excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes, except that interest on the Bonds is an item of tax preference for purposes of the alternative minimum tax (the "AMT") applicable to individual holders under Section 57(a)(5) of the Code, and such interest is also relevant for purposes of the corporate alternative minimum tax under Section 55 of the Code for applicable corporations to the extent such interest is included in adjusted financial statement income. Prospective purchasers, including any corporate purchaser subject to the corporate alternative minimum tax, should consult their own tax advisors as to the applicability of these provisions.

The Bonds have NOT been designated as "qualified tax-exempt obligations" for purposes of Section 265(b) of the Code, because the Issuer's tax-exempt obligations issued during the calendar year of issuance exceeded the threshold amount specified in that Section.

Interest on the Bonds is excludable from gross income for federal income tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, subject to the qualifications described in this Tax Matters section and elsewhere in this Official Statement. The exclusion of interest from gross income is conditioned on continuing compliance by the Authority and the Company with certain covenants contained in the bond documents, including arbitrage rebate and use-of-proceeds restrictions. Noncompliance with these covenants could cause interest on the Bonds to become includable in gross income retroactively to the date of issuance.

This Tax Matters section supplements the discussion of the alternative minimum tax preference item applicable to private activity bonds and the bank-qualification status of the Bonds set forth elsewhere in this Official Statement. The summary in this Tax Matters section is not a complete restatement of all federal income tax consequences of owning the Bonds, and Bond Counsel expresses no opinion regarding any other federal or state tax consequence of owning the Bonds.

Bondholders' Risks — Limited Obligations; No Recourse to the Authority

The Bonds are limited obligations of the Authority payable solely from Revenues, as defined in the Indenture, and from amounts received under the Loan Agreement and the guarantee. The Bonds are not general obligations of the Authority, and Bondholders have no recourse to the Authority for payment. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the Authority, the State, or any political subdivision is pledged to the payment of the Bonds.

In the event that Revenues are insufficient to pay the Bonds when due, the Authority has no obligation to make up any shortfall from its own funds. The Authority has no duty to appropriate or otherwise provide moneys for the Bonds, and no source of payment other than Revenues and the payments to be made by the Company under the Loan Agreement and the guarantee is available to Bondholders.

Bondholders must look solely to the payments made by the Company and to the guarantee for repayment of the Bonds. If the Company fails to make required payments, or if the guarantee is not performed when due, there may be insufficient funds to pay the Bonds. In that event, Bondholders will have no right to compel the Authority to levy taxes, raise revenues, or use any other funds of the Authority to satisfy the Bonds. The Bonds are not a debt of the Authority, and the Authority's role is limited to that of a conduit issuer.

Bondholders' Risks — Reliance on the Guarantee; Single-Obligor Concentration

The Bonds are payable solely from payments made by the Company under the loan agreement and from amounts realized under the guaranty provided by the guarantor. The Authority has no source of payment for the Bonds other than these obligations. Accordingly, the repayment of the Bonds depends entirely on the creditworthiness of the Company and the guarantor, and not on any diversified revenue base or independent source of funds. The Authority does not own or operate any facility or business that generates revenues available to pay debt service on the Bonds.

Because the Bonds are concentrated in the credit of a single obligor and a single guarantor, holders of the Bonds are exposed to the risk that a deterioration in the financial condition of the Company or the guarantor could impair the timely payment of principal of and interest on the Bonds. Any such deterioration could result from adverse business developments, increased competition, changes in applicable law or regulation, a general economic downturn, or other factors affecting the Company or the guarantor. If the Company or the guarantor fails to make any required payment, bondholders would have no claim on any other revenues or assets of the Authority or any other party. In that event, the Bonds could default, and bondholders could lose all or a substantial portion of their investment.

Bondholders' Risks — Secondary Market and Liquidity

The Bonds may have a limited secondary trading market. Although the Bonds are not expected to be listed on any securities exchange, a secondary market for the Bonds may develop, but there can be no assurance that any such market will continue or that a Bondholder will be able to sell Bonds prior to their maturity. The market prices of the Bonds may fluctuate based on general market conditions and on the perceived creditworthiness of the Company. A Bondholder wishing to sell Bonds before maturity may not find a ready buyer at a favorable price, and in some circumstances may not find a buyer at any price.

The municipal secondary market typically quotes yields rather than prices, and the Bonds are expected to trade on that basis. Consistent with how the Bonds trade, yield is the primary quotation convention in the secondary market, and a prospective purchaser of outstanding Bonds will generally evaluate the offered yield relative to current market yields for comparable securities. Because the secondary market for the Bonds may be thin or inactive, the yield at which any outstanding Bonds may be offered for sale could differ materially from the yield at which such Bonds were originally issued, and any such offering price may reflect the seller's assessment of prevailing interest rates and the creditworthiness of the Company. Accordingly, a Bondholder should be prepared to hold the Bonds to maturity and should not rely on the existence of an active or liquid trading market as a means of recovering the invested amount prior to the scheduled payment of principal.

Bondholders' Risks — Tax-Exempt Status and Change in Law

The tax-exempt status of the Bonds is established under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and depends on the continuing compliance by the Authority and the Company with certain requirements of the Internal Revenue Code. The opinion of bond counsel delivered in connection with the issuance and delivery of the Bonds will address the exclusion from gross income for federal income tax purposes of interest on the Bonds. No assurance can be given that future legislative or regulatory changes, or changes in administrative or judicial interpretations of existing law, will not affect the tax-exempt status of the Bonds or the market value of the Bonds.

An adverse determination by the Internal Revenue Service on an audit of the Authority, the Company, or the Bonds could affect the tax-exempt status of the Bonds, the inclusion of interest on the Bonds in gross income for federal income tax purposes, or the market value of the Bonds. If the Internal Revenue Service were to determine that interest on the Bonds is includible in gross income, the resulting loss of tax-exempt status could have a significant adverse effect on the value of the Bonds and on the ability of holders to sell the Bonds at prices reflecting their purported tax-exempt treatment.

No assurance can be given that pending or future tax legislation will not reduce, eliminate, or otherwise adversely affect the tax status of the Bonds or the market value of the Bonds. Any such legislation could apply retroactively or prospectively, and could affect the exclusion from gross income of interest on the Bonds, the availability of any related tax benefits, or the prices at which the Bonds may be resold in the secondary market. Accordingly, each prospective purchaser of the Bonds should consider the risk that changes in law or in the application of law could adversely affect the tax treatment of the Bonds and the value of an investment in the Bonds.

Bondholders' Risks — Additional Indebtedness

The Company and its corporate parent may incur additional indebtedness from time to time in the future. Such additional indebtedness may be secured or unsecured. Unsecured indebtedness could rank equally with the guarantee supporting the Bonds, while secured indebtedness could rank ahead of that guarantee to the extent of the assets pledged as collateral. The Indenture and the Loan Agreement do not prohibit the Company or its corporate parent from incurring all such additional indebtedness, and the terms of those documents may permit significant new borrowings without the consent of the Bondholders.

The incurrence of additional indebtedness by the Company or its corporate parent could have a number of adverse consequences for the Bondholders. The funds available to service the guarantee supporting the Bonds could be diminished by the need to make payments on the additional indebtedness, and in the event of a default or insolvency, the claims of the holders of the additional indebtedness would be satisfied from the assets of the Company or the corporate parent before any amounts would be available to satisfy claims under the guarantee. In the case of secured indebtedness, the pledged assets would be applied to satisfy the secured obligations first, which could leave little or no value for the Bondholders. Even in the case of unsecured indebtedness that ranks equally with the guarantee, the Bondholders would share ratably with the other unsecured creditors in any distribution in a bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding, which could reduce the amount recovered by the Bondholders.

The absence of a comprehensive prohibition on additional indebtedness means that the Company and its corporate parent retain the flexibility to increase their leverage beyond the levels that would exist as of the date of the Official Statement. The Indenture and the Loan Agreement may contain certain limitations on the incurrence of additional indebtedness, but those limitations are not absolute and do not restrict every possible form of borrowing.

Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the Company or its corporate parent will not incur substantial additional indebtedness in the future, and the incurrence of such indebtedness could materially and adversely affect the ability of the Company to make payments under the guarantee and the ability of the Bondholders to receive full and timely payment of principal and interest on the Bonds.

Bondholders' Risks — Bankruptcy and Enforceability of Remedies

If the Company or its corporate parent becomes the subject of a bankruptcy case or another insolvency proceeding, the automatic stay provisions of the United States Bankruptcy Code would take effect. An automatic stay generally prohibits creditors from taking any action to collect on prepetition obligations or to enforce remedies against the debtor or its property absent relief from the stay from the bankruptcy court. As a result, the Authority's ability to exercise remedies under the loan agreement, and the trustee's ability to pursue remedies on behalf of Bondholders, could be delayed or otherwise limited while the stay remains in effect.

The guarantee of the Company's corporate parent, if any, may also be subject to the automatic stay if the corporate parent is the debtor in a bankruptcy proceeding. In that circumstance, the holder of the guarantee would be stayed from proceeding directly against the corporate parent, and the treatment of the guarantee claim would be determined in the corporate parent's bankruptcy case. If the bankruptcy court determines that the guarantee is avoidable as a preferential transfer or a fraudulent conveyance, or if the guarantee is otherwise subordinated or recharacterized, the protection afforded to Bondholders by the guarantee could be substantially diminished or eliminated.

In a bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding involving the Company or its corporate parent, Bondholders generally would be treated as unsecured creditors of the debtor unless their claims are secured by valid and perfected liens. Because the Bonds are payable solely from payments made by the Company under the loan agreement, Bondholders would have no direct recourse to the Company's assets beyond that available to the Authority under the loan agreement. The bankruptcy court could confirm a plan of reorganization that modifies the terms of the loan agreement, extends the scheduled payment dates, reduces the amount of principal or interest payable, or otherwise impairs the claims of Bondholders. Payment of scheduled debt service could therefore be delayed, reduced, or restructured over a period of time without the consent of all Bondholders, and any distribution to unsecured creditors could be less than the full amount owed.

The commencement of a bankruptcy case also operates to stay the acceleration of the Bonds and the exercise of other default remedies. The loan agreement may provide that an event of default occurs upon the commencement of a bankruptcy case with respect to the Company or its corporate parent, and that the principal of and accrued interest on the Bonds may be declared immediately due and payable. However, the bankruptcy court's automatic stay would prevent the trustee or the Authority from taking action to enforce any such acceleration without first obtaining relief from the stay. In addition, the automatic stay may prevent the trustee from applying funds held in certain accounts or from taking control of collateral pledged under the loan agreement, pending further order of the bankruptcy court. Bondholders should consider the bankruptcy and insolvency risks described above in evaluating the Bonds, including the possibility that scheduled debt service payments may be impaired or delayed in a reorganization proceeding involving the Company or its corporate parent.

Bondholders' Risks — Risk of an Adverse IRS Audit

The interest on the Bonds is intended to be excludable from the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. The Internal Revenue Service may audit the Bonds and determine that interest on the Bonds is not, or ceases to be, excludable from gross income, notwithstanding the opinion of Bond Counsel delivered at the time of issuance. An adverse determination by the Internal Revenue Service could cause interest on the Bonds to be includable in gross income, possibly retroactively to the date of issuance, and could result in increased federal income tax liability for Bondholders.

Neither the Authority nor the Company has agreed to indemnify Bondholders against any resulting increase in tax liability. The Authority and the Company have covenanted to comply with the applicable requirements of the Internal Revenue Code and regulations necessary to maintain the tax-exempt status of the Bonds, but no assurance can be given that a subsequent audit by the Internal Revenue Service will not challenge that status or that any such challenge would not be successful.

Continuing Disclosure

In accordance with Rule 15c2-12 promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Obligor has undertaken, for the benefit of the Holders of the Bonds, to provide, or cause to be provided, to the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board through its Electronic Municipal Market Access system ("EMMA"): (a) annual financial information and operating data of the type included in this Official Statement, not later than the date specified in the continuing disclosure agreement; (b) audited financial statements of the Obligor, when and if available; and (c) notice of the occurrence of any of the material events enumerated in Rule 15c2-12(b)(5)(i)(C), including rating changes, bond calls, and any other events listed in EMMA's Category 15 and Category 16 material event taxonomies, in each case within ten business days of the occurrence thereof. A failure by the Obligor to comply with the continuing disclosure undertaking does not itself constitute an Event of Default with respect to the Bonds, but does entitle any Holder to seek specific performance of the undertaking.

The Company, as the Obligor, has entered into a written continuing disclosure undertaking for the benefit of the holders and beneficial owners of the Bonds. The undertaking is entered into solely to assist the underwriter in complying with the Securities and Exchange Commission rule known as Rule fifteen c two twelve under the Securities Exchange Act, as amended. In accordance with the undertaking, the Company has agreed to provide certain annual financial and operating information and to provide notices of certain events, in each case to the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board through its Electronic Municipal Market Access system, referred to as EMMA.

Under the continuing disclosure undertaking, the Company shall file, not later than one hundred eighty days after the end of each fiscal year, an annual report with EMMA. The annual report shall contain, among other information, the financial statements and operating data of the type described in this Official Statement, including audited financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles if the Company prepares or causes to be prepared such statements. If audited financial statements are not available within the period described above, the Company shall file unaudited financial statements within that period and shall file the audited financial statements promptly when they become available.

The Company also shall provide to EMMA, not later than ten business days after the occurrence of the event, notice of any event with respect to the Bonds, the Company, or the facility financed with the proceeds of the Bonds that is listed in the continuing disclosure undertaking, together with any update to the information previously provided. The Company has further agreed to provide notice to EMMA of its failure to file an annual report when due.

The continuing disclosure undertaking is made solely and exclusively to assist the underwriter in complying with the Securities and Exchange Commission rule described above. The undertaking does not create a private right of action in favor of any person, except that a holder or beneficial owner of the Bonds may bring an action to compel specific performance of the Company's obligations under the undertaking. The Authority has no obligation to monitor or enforce the Company's compliance with the undertaking, and no failure by the Company to comply with the undertaking shall constitute a default or an event of default under the Bonds or any document related to the Bonds.

Prospective purchasers of the Bonds should consult the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's Electronic Municipal Market Access system directly for the Obligor's filing history under the continuing disclosure undertaking, including whether the Obligor has made its required filings and the content of any filings made.

Continuing Disclosure — Obligor's Prior Compliance History

Consistent with the disclosure conventions introduced by the Securities and Exchange Commission's two thousand eighteen amendments to Rule fifteen c two dash twelve, a prospective purchaser should review the Obligor's compliance, in all material respects, with its prior continuing disclosure undertakings over the preceding five years. This Official Statement's own disclosure of that compliance history is set forth under this caption.

Legal Matters and Litigation

The issuance of the Bonds is subject to the approving opinion of Bond Counsel, which opinion will be substantially in the form set forth in Appendix B to this Official Statement.

There is no material litigation pending or, to the knowledge of the Authority or the Company, threatened against the Authority or the Company that would materially affect the validity of the Bonds or the ability of the Authority or the Company to perform their respective obligations with respect to the Bonds.

Legal Matters and Litigation — Approval of Legality

Certain legal matters incidental to the authorization and issuance of the Bonds are subject to the approval of Bond Counsel. Bond Counsel's opinion speaks only as of its date, and Bond Counsel undertakes no obligation to update it. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Underwriter by its own counsel and for the Company by its own counsel.

Underwriting

The underwriter has agreed, subject to customary conditions, to purchase the Bonds from the Authority for reoffering to the public. The public offering price may be changed by the underwriter after the initial offering. The underwriter's compensation for its services will be a customary underwriting discount.

Appendix A — Selected Financial Information of the Obligor

The following condensed selected financial information of the Company (the Obligor) is derived from the Obligor's most recently available audited financial statements. This information is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Obligor's full audited financial statements, complete copies of which are available upon request from the Obligor; it is not, and does not purport to be, a complete presentation of the Obligor's financial position or results of operations.

Line Item	Amount
Net Income	9,400,000.00
Plus: Provision for Taxes	3,100,000.00
Plus: Interest Expense	15,700,000.00
Plus: Depreciation and Amortization	10,300,000.00
Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization	38,500,000.00

Total funded indebtedness reflected in the Obligor's audited financial statements includes the Bonds described in this Official Statement, together with the Obligor's other outstanding funded indebtedness. The Obligor's audited financial statements are not incorporated by reference into, and are not a part of, this Official Statement, except as expressly set forth in this Appendix A.

Appendix B — Form of Opinion of Bond Counsel

[Letterhead of Bond Counsel]

[Date]

The Authority

Dear Members of the Authority:

We have acted as bond counsel to the Authority in connection with the authorization, sale, and issuance of the Authority's revenue bonds described in the Official Statement (the Bonds). In such capacity, we have examined such certified proceedings and other documents as we have deemed necessary to render this opinion.

The Bonds are issued pursuant to an indenture (the Indenture) between the Authority and a trustee, and are payable from and secured by a pledge of certain revenues and moneys to be received by the Authority under a loan agreement and related documents (the Financing Documents) with the Company, as obligor (the Obligor). Capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Indenture.

Based on our examination of the foregoing, and in reliance upon the representations, warranties, and certifications made to us, and upon the accuracy of the factual matters set forth in the certified proceedings and other documents, we are of the opinion that:

The Bonds have been duly authorized, executed, and delivered by the Authority and, assuming due authentication and delivery thereof, constitute valid and binding limited obligations of the Authority, enforceable in accordance with their terms, except as enforcement may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, or other similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally, and by general principles of equity, including, without limitation, concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith, and fair dealing, regardless of whether considered in a proceeding in equity or at law.

The Bonds are payable solely from the revenues and other moneys pledged under the Indenture and the Financing Documents. The Bonds do not constitute a general obligation of the Authority, do not create a charge against the general credit or taxing power of the Authority, and are not payable from any moneys of the Authority other than those specifically pledged for the payment of the Bonds.

Interest on the Bonds is excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes, subject to the qualifications and assumptions stated herein. Interest on the Bonds is not treated as an item of tax preference for purposes of computing the federal alternative minimum tax, except as may be required for certain corporations as provided in the Internal Revenue Code of nineteen hundred eighty-six, as amended (the Code).

The opinions expressed herein are subject to the following qualifications and assumptions: (i) we have assumed the accuracy and truthfulness of all representations, warranties, certifications, and statements of fact made by the Authority, the Obligor, the trustee, and others in the certified proceedings and other documents; (ii) we have assumed the due authorization, execution, and delivery of the Financing Documents by the Obligor and the enforceability thereof against the Obligor in accordance with their terms; (iii) we have assumed compliance with all covenants, conditions, and requirements contained in the Indenture and the Financing Documents; and (iv) we have not undertaken to verify the accuracy of any financial or statistical information included in the Official Statement.

We have not been requested to examine, and we have not examined, any documents or instruments other than the certified proceedings and other documents identified herein. We express no opinion with respect to any other matter, including, without limitation, the accuracy, adequacy, or completeness of the Official Statement or any other offering or disclosure document.

This opinion is given as of the date hereof and is based upon the law and facts in existence on such date. We assume no obligation to update this opinion or to advise any person of any change in law or fact that may occur after the date hereof.

Very truly yours,

[Name of Bond Counsel Firm]

Appendix B — Form of Opinion of Bond Counsel (Qualifications and Assumptions)

The opinions expressed in the form of opinion of Bond Counsel are subject to the following qualifications and assumptions.

Bond Counsel has relied, without independent investigation, upon the accuracy and completeness of the representations, certifications, and statements of fact made by the Authority and the Company in the proceedings, certificates, and other documents delivered in connection with the authorization and issuance of the Bonds, including the Authority's and the Company's tax certifications. Bond Counsel assumes that such representations, certifications, and statements of fact remain accurate and complete as of the date of delivery of the Bonds and that the Authority and the Company will continue to comply with all covenants and agreements set forth in the Bond documents relating to the exclusion of interest on the Bonds from gross income for federal income tax purposes.

Bond Counsel has further assumed, without independent investigation, the due authorization, execution, and delivery of the Bond documents by the Authority and the Company, the genuineness of all signatures, the authenticity of all documents submitted to Bond Counsel as originals, and the conformity to the originals of all documents submitted to Bond Counsel as copies. Bond Counsel has not undertaken to verify any factual matter by independent investigation, and no such verification is necessary to the opinions expressed.

Bond Counsel expressly disclaims any responsibility to verify, and has not independently verified, the accuracy, completeness, or fairness of the Official Statement or any information contained in the Official Statement. Bond Counsel has not passed upon and does not assume responsibility for the accuracy, completeness, or fairness of any statements or financial data contained in the Official Statement or any supplement or amendment thereto. Bond Counsel's engagement with respect to the Bonds is limited to the matters expressly stated in the opinion letter, and Bond Counsel opines only on those matters. No person may infer from Bond Counsel's involvement in the transactions described in the Official Statement that Bond Counsel is expressing any opinion on any matter not expressly set forth in the opinion letter.

Bond Counsel assumes that all conditions precedent to the issuance and delivery of the Bonds have been satisfied in accordance with the terms of the Bond documents, that the Bonds have been duly executed and delivered and are valid and binding obligations of the Authority, and that all payments of principal and interest on the Bonds will be made in accordance with the Bond documents. The opinions expressed are further qualified by the application of applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, moratorium, and other laws affecting creditors' rights generally and by general principles of equity.

Appendix B — Form of Opinion of Bond Counsel (Reliance)

This opinion is rendered solely for the benefit of the addressee and may not be relied upon by any other person without Bond Counsel's prior written consent.

Bond Counsel has not been engaged to, and has not undertaken to, review or verify the accuracy of the Official Statement.

This opinion is not a guarantee of any particular result and is limited to the matters expressly stated in it.

Appendix C — Form of Continuing Disclosure Undertaking (Annual Report Covenants)

The Company, as the Obligor, hereby covenants and agrees to provide, or cause to be provided, to the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board through its Electronic Municipal Market Access system (EMMA), or any successor system designated by the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board, an annual report for each fiscal year of the Obligor. The annual report shall be filed no later than one hundred eighty days after the end of each fiscal year of the Obligor.

The annual report shall contain at least the following financial and operating information with respect to the Obligor: financial statements for the most recent fiscal year, prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and, if audited financial statements have been prepared, the audited financial statements; a summary of operating data for the most recent fiscal year, including information of the type presented in the Official Statement; and a description of any material developments affecting the financial condition or operations of the Obligor since the end of the most recent fiscal year.

If audited financial statements are not available by the filing deadline, the Obligor shall file unaudited financial statements by that deadline and shall file audited financial statements promptly when and if they become available.

The annual report may be cross-referenced to other documents that have been filed with the Electronic Municipal Market Access system of the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board, provided that the annual report clearly identifies the specific document or documents containing the required information.

Appendix C — Form of Continuing Disclosure Undertaking (Event Notices and Remedies)

The Obligor hereby covenants to provide, in accordance with Rule fifteen c two dash twelve of the Securities and Exchange Commission, notice of each material event described below to the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board through its Electronic Municipal Market Access system. The Obligor shall provide each such notice in a timely manner, and in any event not later than ten business days after the occurrence of the event.

The material events requiring notice are: any delinquency in the payment of principal of or interest on the Bonds; any default with respect to the Bonds other than a payment delinquency; any unscheduled draw on debt service reserves with respect to the Bonds reflecting financial difficulties; any unscheduled draw on credit enhancement or liquidity facilities relating to the Bonds that reflects financial difficulties of the Obligor; the substitution of any credit enhancement or liquidity provider with respect to the Bonds, or the failure of any such provider to perform its obligations; any adverse tax opinion or other material event affecting the exclusion of interest on the Bonds from gross income for federal income tax purposes; any modification to the rights of holders of the Bonds; any bond call, if material, any tender offer for the Bonds, and any defeasance of the Bonds; the release, substitution, or sale of any property that secures the repayment of the Bonds; any change in the rating of the Bonds; any bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership, or similar proceeding with respect to the Obligor or any other obligated person; the consummation of any merger, consolidation, or acquisition involving the Obligor, the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the Obligor, the transfer of the assets of the Obligor to an affiliate, or any change in the name of the Obligor; the appointment of any successor trustee with respect to the Bonds or any change in the name of the trustee; and the failure by the Obligor to provide any annual financial information or audited financial statements required by this undertaking when due.

The sole remedy for any failure by the Obligor to comply with this undertaking shall be an action for specific performance in a court of competent jurisdiction. No holder of the Bonds, the Authority, or any other person shall be entitled to recover monetary damages, including consequential damages, from the Obligor or any official, officer, employee, servant, or agent thereof for any such failure.

This undertaking shall terminate upon the earlier of the payment in full of all of the Bonds, whether at maturity, by acceleration, by redemption, or otherwise, or a legal defeasance or satisfaction and discharge of the Bonds in accordance with the indenture.

Appendix D — Summary of the Trust Indenture

The following summary describes certain principal provisions of the Trust Indenture relating to the Bonds. This summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Indenture and does not purport to be complete. It is deliberately less complete than the full Indenture and does not attempt to restate every provision.

All payments required to be made by the Company with respect to the Bonds will be remitted to the Trustee for deposit into the Bond Fund. Money held in the Bond Fund will be applied to the payment of interest on the Bonds as it becomes due and to the payment of principal of the Bonds as it becomes due, all in accordance with the priority and timing provisions of the Indenture. The Trustee will hold money in the Bond Fund separate and apart from other funds, and money in the Bond Fund will be used only for the benefit of the Holders of the Bonds. Amounts remaining in the Bond Fund after all Bonds have been paid or provision for payment has been made will be disposed of as provided in the Indenture.

The Indenture contains a restriction on the issuance of additional bonds. The Company may not issue additional bonds under the Indenture unless no event of default has occurred and is continuing and unless the conditions and tests set forth in the Indenture have been satisfied. These conditions and tests are designed to demonstrate, among other matters, that the Company will have sufficient revenues or earnings to meet its debt service obligations on the Bonds and the additional bonds proposed to be issued, as measured over the period and in the manner described in the Indenture.

The Indenture provides that the following, among other events, are events of default: failure by the Company to pay the principal of any Bond when due; failure by the Company to pay the interest on any Bond when due; failure by the Company to observe or perform certain of its covenants, agreements, or obligations under the Indenture; and certain events of bankruptcy, insolvency, dissolution, or receivership involving the Company. If an event of default occurs and is continuing, the Trustee may declare the principal amount of all Bonds then outstanding to be immediately due and payable, and the Trustee may exercise such other rights and remedies as are provided in the Indenture or available at law or in equity. The Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding may, subject to the terms of the Indenture, direct the time, method, and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Trustee.

The Indenture may be amended without the consent of the Holders of the Bonds for certain ministerial, corrective, or clarifying purposes that are not material and do not adversely affect the interests of the Holders. The Indenture may also be amended with the written consent of the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding for purposes other than those described above. However, no amendment may, without the consent of the Holder of each affected Bond, change the maturity of any Bond, reduce the principal amount payable on any Bond, reduce the interest rate or change the interest payment dates, impair the right of any Holder to institute suit to enforce payment, or adversely affect the security interest granted to secure the Bonds.

This summary of the Trust Indenture is not complete and reference is made to the full text of the Indenture for a complete statement of its terms and provisions.

Appendix D — Summary of the Loan Agreement

The following is a summary of the principal provisions of the Loan Agreement between the Authority and the Company, pursuant to which the Authority has agreed to make a loan to the Company from the proceeds of the Bonds and the Company has agreed to repay the loan. This summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Loan Agreement and does not purport to be complete.

Loan Payments. The Company has unconditionally obligated itself to make loan payments to the Authority in amounts and at times sufficient to pay, when due, the principal of and interest on the Bonds, together with any other amounts required under the Loan Agreement. The Company's obligation to make such payments is absolute and unconditional, and the Company is required to make those payments whether or not the Project is completed, operating, or producing revenue, and without any right of set-off, counterclaim, or deduction except as expressly provided in the Loan Agreement.

Maintenance and Insurance. The Company has covenanted to maintain the Project in good condition and repair, to make all necessary repairs and replacements, and to keep the Project insured in amounts and with insurers customary for similar facilities and otherwise as required by the Loan Agreement, including provisions for the Authority to be named as an additional insured or loss payee as applicable.

Tax-Exempt Use Covenant. The Company has covenanted that it will not take any action, or permit any action to be taken with respect to the Project, that would cause interest on the Bonds to become includable in gross income for federal income tax purposes. The Company has further covenanted to comply with the applicable requirements of the Internal Revenue Code and applicable regulations regarding the use of the Project, including restrictions on the use of the Project by third parties, and to refrain from any use of the Project that would cause the Bonds to be treated as arbitrage bonds or otherwise jeopardize the tax-exempt status of interest on the Bonds.

Events of Default. The Loan Agreement specifies events of default, which generally include the failure by the Company to make any required payment under the Loan Agreement when due, the failure by the Company to observe or perform any other covenant or obligation under the Loan Agreement, and certain bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership, or dissolution events affecting the Company. Upon the occurrence and continuance of an event of default, the remedies available to the Authority may include acceleration of the Company's obligation to make loan payments and the exercise of such other rights and remedies as are set forth in the Loan Agreement.

This summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Loan Agreement and does not purport to be complete.

Appendix E — Book-Entry-Only System (DTC and Participants)

The Depository Trust Company, commonly known as DTC, is a securities depository that holds securities for the benefit of its participants and facilitates the clearance and settlement of transactions in those securities through computerized book-entry changes. In connection with the Bonds described in this Official Statement, DTC will act as the securities depository for the Bonds, and the Bonds will be issued in fully immobilized form registered in the name of Cede & Co., which is the partnership nominee of DTC.

Cede & Co. will be the sole registered holder of the Bonds, and no person purchasing a beneficial ownership interest in the Bonds will receive a physical certificate representing that interest. Instead, DTC will maintain its records to show the bond positions of its participants, and each participant will maintain records of the beneficial ownership interests of its own customers. For purposes of this description, the term participant refers to any broker, dealer, bank, trust company, or other entity that has a securities account with DTC, and the term indirect participant refers to any entity that clears or settles transactions through a participant on whose books it holds a position.

Beneficial ownership interests in the Bonds will be transferred only through book entries recorded on the records of participants and indirect participants. When a beneficial owner transfers such an interest, the transfer will be accomplished by a debit and credit to the respective accounts of the transferring and receiving parties on the records of the appropriate participant or indirect participant, without any physical movement of certificates. These book-entry transfers will occur in accordance with the rules and procedures established by DTC and the applicable participant or indirect participant, and the Authority and the Company will have no responsibility or liability for the accuracy or completeness of those records.

Neither the Authority nor the Company, nor any trustee, paying agent, or bond registrar, will have any direct relationship with beneficial owners of the Bonds. All communications, notices, and payments with respect to the Bonds will be made to Cede & Co. as the registered holder, and DTC will be responsible for distributing such communications and payments to its participants, who in turn will be responsible for forwarding them to the indirect participants and beneficial owners. The sole means of evidencing beneficial ownership will be the records maintained by DTC, its participants, and indirect participants, and the sole means of transferring beneficial ownership will be through the book-entry system described herein.

Appendix E — Book-Entry-Only System (Payments and Notices Through DTC)

The Authority will make all payments of principal of and interest on the Bonds to DTC or its nominee. DTC will be responsible for crediting those payments to its participants in accordance with its own procedures. Each participant will be responsible for crediting the amounts so received to the accounts of the beneficial owners for which it acts. Notices and communications from the Authority or the Trustee with respect to the Bonds will be delivered to DTC, which will be responsible for transmitting them to its participants, and each participant will be responsible for transmitting them to the beneficial owners for which it acts. Neither the Authority nor the Trustee has any responsibility for the accuracy of DTC's or a participant's records or for payments made by DTC or a participant.

Appendix E — Book-Entry-Only System (Discontinuance of Book-Entry-Only System)

The book-entry-only system may be discontinued under any of the following circumstances: the resignation of DTC as securities depository for the Bonds, the determination by the Authority to discontinue the book-entry-only system, or the cessation of DTC to be a clearing agency registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or other applicable law.

In the event of any such discontinuance, the Authority and the Company, or the Obligor, shall cause replacement certificates representing the Bonds to be issued to the Beneficial Owners. Such replacement certificates shall be registered in the names of the Beneficial Owners and shall be in the same principal amounts and bearing the same interest terms as the Bonds previously held through the book-entry-only system.

The procedure for issuing replacement certificates shall be as follows. Upon the occurrence of a discontinuance event, the Authority shall instruct DTC to notify the Direct Participants of the discontinuance. The Direct Participants shall then provide notice to the Beneficial Owners of the procedure for obtaining replacement certificates. Each Beneficial Owner shall be entitled to receive a replacement certificate upon surrender of its beneficial ownership interest through its Direct Participant and the presentation of such instructions as the Authority and the Paying Agent may reasonably require.

The Authority shall cause replacement certificates to be executed and delivered within a reasonable time after the discontinuance becomes effective, not to exceed sixty days from the date of such event, unless a different period is required under the Indenture. The Paying Agent shall act as transfer agent for the registration of such replacement certificates. No service charge shall be imposed on any Beneficial Owner for the issuance of replacement certificates, but the Beneficial Owner may be required to pay any applicable tax or other governmental charge resulting from such registration.

The obligations of the Authority and the Company, or the Obligor, under this Section shall survive the discontinuance of the book-entry-only system and shall continue until all replacement certificates have been duly issued and delivered to the Beneficial Owners. Upon such issuance, the book-entry-only system shall terminate, and the rights of the Beneficial Owners shall be evidenced solely by the replacement certificates.

Miscellaneous

The summaries of documents contained in this Official Statement do not purport to be complete and are qualified in their entirety by reference to the definitive forms of such documents.

Any statements in this Official Statement involving matters of opinion are intended as such and not as representations of fact.

The Authority has authorized the execution and delivery of this Official Statement.